

House Adopts One-Man Grand Jury Bill, 66-9

Senate May Bottle Up New Measure

LANSING — (AP)—A new one-man grand jury system in Michigan was one step nearer reality today with house approval.

The bill was passed yesterday in total silence by a 66 to 9 vote. To the great surprise of a packed gallery, the looked-for storm of debate failed to materialize.

There was speculation that opponents were almost certain the senate would bottle up the bill, so opponents did not feel called on to expend their verbal ammunition.

Corruption Disclosed

The bill was watered down by a last-minute amendment which would permit witnesses to refuse to testify on grounds of self-incrimination even if they were granted immunity from prosecution.

The legislature abolished the one-man system two years ago after it had been used to unearth sensational charges of state and local corruption and graft. It was widely criticized as placing too much power in the hands of one man and being otherwise abused.

In a statement following the vote, Rep. Louis C. Cramton (R-Lapeer), the sponsor, said he did not believe the last-minute amendment unduly weakened the bill.

"As the bill now stands," he

Five-Cent Tax On Gas Pushed

Compromise Measure Ready In Lansing

LANSING — (AP)—The legislative track was cleared today for a five-cents-a-gallon gasoline tax in Michigan. The tax now is three cents.

But over the horizon is Governor Williams' promise to veto such an increase.

A House-Senate conference committee, supported by Republican caucuses in both chambers, reported out a compromise measure, splitting the difference between divergent House and Senate methods of raising more highway money.

The compromise calls for a two-cents-a-gallon gas tax increase, a $4,500,000 increase in the weight (license) tax on heavy vehicles, a one-cent-a-gallon increase in the diesel fuel tax and permission to fund the gas tax increase for municipal buses.

Legislative leaders still were uncertain whether the Republicans can override Williams' expected veto in the House. The Republicans have enough votes in the Senate to override, but must pick up some Democratic support in the House.

Truman Asks Stiffer Food Price Controls

WASHINGTON — (AP)—President Truman's program for tightening food price controls, broadening rent curbs and cracking down generally on violators of mobilization orders may go to Congress today.

Charles E. Wilson, the defense mobilizer, said the lawmakers will receive Mr. Truman's recommendations in a special message by tomorrow at the latest.

Mr. Truman called Senator Maybank (D-SC) and Rep. Spence (D-Ky) to the White House late yesterday for a preview of the proposed changes in

Yellow School Bus Rejected In Legislature

Michigan Only State With Old Colors

LANSING — (AP)—A drive to scuttle the old age assistance "lien law" was beaten down by one vote in the senate yesterday.

The senate, in a rebellious mood, also whipped bills to create a state bean commission and to require school buses to be painted chrome yellow.

Party Lines Crossed

The bean commission measure would have imposed a tax of three cents a 100 pounds on beans to promote their sale.

The defeat of the yellow-bus bill leaves Michigan the only state in the union still requiring school buses to be painted red-white-and-blue.

Republicans crossed party lines to vote with Democrats to emasculate the "lien law," but two Republican senators—Perry W. Greene of Grand Rapids and William A. Ellsworth of St. Ignace—joined to sustain it.

Both voted with proponents of the scuttling on amendments, but on the final vote Ellsworth switched sides and Greene did not vote.

Costs Cut Down

The "lien law," denounced by Governor Williams, requires the state to file claims against the estates of old age assistance recipients after their deaths. It is intended to force their relatives to support them under penalty of losing their inheritances.

The state welfare department reported it had recovered old age assistance costs more than $3,000,000 a year.

The scuttling bill would have forbidden the state to force the sale of a homestead to pay its claims. Since old age assistance recipients can have little property to become eligible for benefits, the exemption of their homes would virtually leave the state no property against which to levy.

Detroit Strike Talks Stalled

Transit Workers Sit Tight For Raise

DETROIT — (AP)—Peace talks, like the street cars and buses stalled by Detroit's six-day-old strike of 3,700 transit workers, were standing still today.

Negotiations were deadlocked when city officials and representatives of striking AFL drivers and operators broke off discussions yesterday.

Leo Nowicki, general manager of the city's department of street railways, said he would try to get the parties together again today.

The union is demanding an 8½ cent hourly wage boost. The city has offered five cents an hour if the union will give up certain fringe benefits.

Base pay is $1.67 ½ an hour. In general the fringes bring the pay above $2.00.

Acting under Michigan's law forbidding strikes by public utility workers, the city was preparing to send dismissal notices to strikers. However some of the drivers expressed only amusement at the dismissal move.

They said new drivers could not break the strike because it takes 45 days to train a replacement properly, "and how can they train the substitutes if the union won't let the buses out of the terminal."

U. S. Embassy Counsellor Tyler Thompson said he was informed today by the Czech foreign ministry that Oatis had been arrested on three charges:

"1—Activities hostile to the state.

"2—Gathering and disseminating information considered secret by Czechoslovakia.

"3—Spreading malicious information regarding the Czech state through illegal news organs, for which purpose he misused Czech citizens."

The 37-year-old newsman disappeared from his office in Prague Monday afternoon after telling Czech colleagues that he was on his way to keep an appointment with an official in the Czech information ministry.

The day before he disappeared, he told U. S. embassy officials in Prague that he believed he was being shadowed day and night, apparently by Czech secret police.

Chicago Has Holiday As Millions Join In MacArthur Jamboree

CHICAGO — (AP)—Today was Gen. MacArthur day in Chicago and the nation's second largest city was ready to greet the five-star general with a huge demonstration.

The city's millions and thousands from nearby cities were expected to join in the 10-hour civic tribute to the general. The celebration shaping up as the biggest in the city's history, was expected to draw some 3,000,000 spectators.

Windows Boarded Up
Chicago was in a holiday spirit for the reception to the self-styled "old soldier." The city was decked out in flags and bunting. Windows in stores along the parade route were boarded.

All public buildings will be closed — and most of the loop stores will be closed during the parade. The White Sox baseball team made today an open day by playing a double header yesterday. The board of trade and some business houses will close at noon.

It will be a double-barreled celebration — the formal parade down Michigan avenue and state street this afternoon and pageantry, fireworks and a talk by Gen. MacArthur in Soldier Field tonight. A turnout of 100,000 was expected for the big jamboree in the lake front stadium. No rain was forecast. Fair and cool weather was predicted with temperatures in the high 50's.

Milwaukee Friday
Placards bearing greetings, "Hi Mac" were on display throughout the city.

But the merchandise mart, the world's largest commercial building, had the biggest greeting for the general. Across the front of the huge building in letters 20 feet high was the salutation, "Hi, Mac." A big American flag will be flown from each letter.

The general and his party will leave Chicago 7:30 a. m., CST Friday by automobile for Milwaukee. He will travel along the north shore of Lake Michigan and plans to stop at Great Lakes naval training station to visit briefly with wounded war veterans. After the Milwaukee celebration the general will fly back to New York.

Czechs Arrest Writer For AP

Head Of News Bureau Vanishes In Prague

FRANKFURT, Germany — (AP)—The Czechoslovak Communist government announced today it has arrested William N. Oatis, missing chief of the Associated Press Prague Bureau, for "activities hostile to the state."

Oatis vanished in Prague Monday. The U. S. embassy there yesterday asked the Czech government for an urgent inquiry into his whereabouts.

U. S. Embassy Counsellor Tyler Thompson said he was informed today by the Czech foreign ministry that Oatis had been arrested on three charges:

"1—Activities hostile to the state.

"2—Gathering and disseminating information considered secret by Czechoslovakia.

South Korean Capital Given Up By Allies

Big Guns Of U. S. Halt Enemy In East

TOKYO — (AP)—Allied troops today abandoned their last foothold north of the 38th parallel in Western Korea.

They were "fighting a magnificent delaying action" against 300,000 Chinese pressing towards Seoul. The Reds were 20 miles or less from the South Korean capital.

Munsan fell to Chinese driving down a main highway from the northwest. The towns is 21 miles from the war-battered capital.

Ripped By Artillery

Fifteen miles to the east, Red masses surged across 38 and down the Yonchon-Uijongbu road leading to Seoul. Allies pulled back south of Changgo, four miles below the border.

Chinese tried to knife down an undefended strip between the Uijongbu highway and Munsan. Heavy artillery fire ripped into them throughout Thursday.

The U. N. withdrawal toward Uijongbu yielded about six miles to the Reds—their biggest gain of the day. It almost wiped out the western side of the Kap'yong bulge in the center of the 100 mile front.

Slow withdrawals were made in the bulge, about 30 miles northeast of Seoul, and to the northeast in the Hwachon-Yangu salient. This sector had held steady since the Communist spring offensive opened up Sunday night.

Eighth army divisions in the west were generally falling back well ahead of the Chinese masses. The terrific fire power of American artillery and Allied planes

Death Penalty Issue Up Again

Legislators' Salary Raise Near Vote

LANSING — (AP)—The house today had to decide the capital punishment issue all over again.

Its committee on revision and amendment to the constitution reported a proposed constitutional amendment which would instruct the legislature that the people favored providing for the death penalty for first degree murderers where juries did not recommend mercy.

The house defeated a capital punishment bill Tuesday.

The amendment, proposed by Rep. Gerald Murphy (D-Detroit), would not be mandatory, providing only that the legislature "may" enact the death penalty.

Murphy said this would provide the legislature with an advisory vote.

Before the proposal may be submitted to the people, however, it has to receive two-thirds majorities in both houses. Some observers doubted that this was possible.

The house advanced for a vote today a bill to increase legislators' salaries to $3,600 a year and their expense accounts to $900 a year beginning in 1953. They now get $2,400 and $500.

Pilgrimage Racket
Bared By Starving
Moslems On Island

CAIRO, Egypt — (AP)—Chance discovery of 22 bodies and four starving persons on an isolated Red Sea island has uncovered in grisly detail a Moslem pilgrimage racket, an Arab news agency dispatch from Asmara, Eritrea, said last night.

The dispatch said the group had been swindled by an illegal organization in Massawa, Eritrea, which promised to take them on a pilgrimage to Arabia, but marooned them instead.

The survivors were discovered by Eritrean boatmen who sailed past the isle of Cad-Du off the Eritrean coast of the Red Sea.

Divers Hunt Bodies Of 43 In Key West Airliner Collision

KEY WEST, Fla. — (AP)—Grim navy divers recovered more wreckage and mangled bodies today from the shattered sections of a Cuban airliner and a Navy trainer plane which collided and killed 43 persons.

Up to noon a total of 22 bodies had been brought to the surface, and taken to morgues. Nineteen were located yesterday after the crash.

Like Bomb Blast

The four-engined transport, carrying 34 passengers and five crewmen from Miami to Havana and the Navy plane, a twin-motored Beechcraft with four aboard, collided with a noise like a bomb blast over Key West shortly before noon yesterday.

Then, in full view of hundreds of shocked sunbathers and residents of the city, the airliner power-dived into the ocean at a speed estimated by witnesses at 600 miles an hour. It landed a half-mile offshore, not far from President Truman's "Little White House."

The navy craft, disintegrating as it fell, crashed two miles west of the transport.

Marine Pfc Arthur Calogero of Jersey City, N. J., saw the planes come down with engines roaring and notified authorities at the Navy submarine base here. So quickly did the craft go into action that the first body from the navy plane was recovered in 10 minutes and the first from the airliner in 15 minutes.

By nightfall, 17 bodies had been recovered from the submerged wreckage of the transport and two from the navy plane. Then the transport engines were hoisted to the surface. Shreds of human flesh could be seen on them.

Visibility Unlimited

A Naval board of inquiry, headed by Capt. R. S. Quackenbush, jr., commander of the Boca Chica Naval air station, was set up in an effort to determine why the planes collided in perfect flying weather, with unlimited visibility.

Capt. Quackenbush said the navy plane may have been engaged in "blind flying" practice, but added that in such cases "one of the pilots has clear visual observation at all times."

The airliner was on its course and flying at the prescribed 4,000 feet altitude. Its route was over a dog-leg course from Miami over Key West, then south to the Cuban capital.

Grand Rapids Called City Of Vice And It Stirs Hornet's Nest

LANSING — (AP)—A state representative's attempt to force a vote on a state "little Kefauver committee" had stirred up a hornet's nest today.

The attempt included an indictment of Grand Rapids as "wide open."

Grand Rapids officials and state legislators, Governor Williams and State Police Commissioner Donald S. Leonard were demanding proof of claims by Rep. Robert E. Faulkner (R-Coloma) that "organized prostitution and gambling make Grand Rapids one of the most wide open cities in the Midwest."

Ready With Names

Faulkner authored a resolution to set up a state committee to investigate organized crime. The resolution has been stalled in the House rules and resolutions committee.

In his prepared speech, Faulkner said he had evidence to refute those who thought his proposed committee was unnecessary.

"I will welcome the calling of a grand jury investigation as quickly as possible."

Scheierson said examination of Grand Rapids court records would show "that vice is prosecuted."

"There is no chain prostitution," he added. "There are immediate raids and arrests on houses where independent prostitutes operate. Only 10 days ago, 12 girls from Chicago were run out of town, and two who didn't go were brought in and given jail sentences."

Just what Moody's Senate committee assignment will be was not yet known. As a new senator, he will probably be given a minor committee spot.

Moody, the Detroit News Washington correspondent appointed Monday to the post left vacant by Vandenberg's death last week, was sworn in as a senator in a brief, five-minute session yesterday.

A reporter asked Moody who had never declared his political affiliations:

"Just when did you become a Democrat, Blair?"

"Last Sunday night at midnight," Moody grinned.

River Victim Buried

DETROIT — (AP)—Funeral services were held today for three-year-old Barry Stone, who drowned in the Grand River at Lansing April 4. Mrs. Pellow Verifies Signature Of Norton

John P. Norton, whose will made Jan. 5, 1950, is being contested by his heirs, signed probate court papers on the same day, and that signature today was verified by Mrs. K. C. Pellow of Negaunee, his sister-in-law.

Called as a witness for the contestants seeking to break the Norton will, Mrs. Pellow examined Norton's signature on a petition to probate court to name him administrator of his wife's estate, notarized Jan. 5, 1950.

Mrs. Pellow also verified John Norton's signature on other probate papers in connection with his wife's estate, entered as evidence by counsel for proponents of the will in its defense.

Named Administrator
Judge Glenn W. Jackson, circuit court judge presiding at the jury hearing of the Norton will contest, received the probate court papers in evidence as showing the ability of John Norton to transact business on the day the will was signed.

Evidence presented by counsel for Atty. James E. Frost, proponent of the will of John Norton, revealed that John Norton had petitioned for and was named administrator and special administrator of the estate of his wife, Anna C. Norton, who died Dec. 27, 1949.

Probate Judge William Miller of Delta county appointed John Norton as a "competent and suitable person" and Norton continued as administrator of his wife's estate until his death July 12, 1950.

Hearing Goes On
(Ralph "Bud" Carroll of Escanaba, brother of the late Mrs. John Norton, was named administrator of Mrs. Norton's estate following the death of Mr. Norton.)

Mrs. Pellow returned to the witness stand this morning after being on most of yesterday and will continue to testify this afternoon.

The Norton will hearing is now in its seventh day and probably will continue into or through next week. Judge Jackson has called in Judge Herman Dehnke of Harrisville, Mich., to preside at the opening of the Dickinson county term of circuit court opening next Monday at Iron Mountain.

Conclusion Ruled Out
Late yesterday afternoon here, Judge Jackson sustained an objection by counsel for proponents of the will to testimony by Mrs. Pellow concerning her conclusion as to the mental capacity of John Norton. The point of law was argued by the attorneys for both parties with the jury in retirement.

Today Mrs. Pellow in direct examination restated her observation that John Norton could not read at about the period he signed his will. He also answered "no," she said, in response to questions asked of him by Mrs. Pellow if he did not want to keep photographs of friends and relatives after the death of his wife.

She testified that in February she received a telephone call "from the Press" asking her to ask John Norton if he would meet with a group of Press employees. She said she consulted him and he said he would.

Employees Meeting
That evening, she testified, a group of about nine employees including four she identified as William J. Duchaine, Press editor; James G. Ward Jr., general manager; G. W. Traverser, advertising manager; and Clint Dunathan, city editor, came to the Norton home.

Mrs. Pellow testified that before the meeting John Norton had asked her to "sit in" and she had refused but said she would "listen in" from the living room. She said the employees in turn "stated their grievances," and when John Norton was "very tired" she told the group "the time is up" and they left. Afterward, she said, Norton was "awfully tired."

Several days later Norton collapsed in his dressing room at night and she was unable to lift him into bed and summoned James G. Ward Jr. to assist her. The following day Norton was taken to the hospital.

She did not see John Norton when he returned from St. Francis hospital because Mack Norton, brother of John, would not permit her to reenter the house, she testified.

Gas Plant Bond Sale Approved

Halsey, Stuart Co. Is Low Bidder

Halsey, Stuart and company, Chicago, was the low bidder on the purchase of $125,000 in general obligation bonds of the City of Escanaba to finance conversion of the city gas plant to propane gas and was awarded the bond contract by the city council Wednesday afternoon.

Halsey, Stuart and company submitted a net bid of 1.8773% with total interest of $13,329 for the 10 year period of the bonds. The bid calls for an interest rate of 2% on the bids but the firm offered a premium of $871 on the par value.

Other bids were as follows: John Nuveen and company, Chicago; Par, no premium, with interest rates of 1 3/4% for bonds maturing 1952 through 1953 and 2% on bonds maturing 1956 through 1961. The net interest rate was 1.9458% and the total interest cost $13,815.12.

Escanaba National Bank, bidding on behalf of all three Escanaba banks, including State Bank of Escanaba and First National Bank; Par, no premium, with interest rate of 2% on all bonds maturing 1952 through 1961. The net interest rate was two percent. The conversion to propane gas will proceed as soon as the large steel storage tanks can be secured. Delivery has been indicated for next December and it is expected that the new plant will be in operation late in the winter or early spring, 1952.

Stephenson Will Hold Career Day Friday, April 27

All Menominee county high schools will send students to the Stephenson high school gymnasium on Friday, April 27 for the Annual Career Day.

Thirty representatives from the colleges, industry, labor, and the professions will be at hand to counsel with students about occupations.

John Lemmer, superintendent of the Escanaba city schools, will deliver the keynote address. The conference will begin at 9:00 o'clock central standard time and State hospital at Newberry. They will be accompanied by Mrs. Byron Braamse and Louis Siedl of the faculty.

OLD JOE IS BACK AGAIN — Joseph Skerbeck, 77-year-old showman, who has been playing Escanaba and other Upper Peninsula communities for decades, has arrived in Escanaba to get the family's carnival equipment into shape for the 1951 tour.

Skerbecks Will Tour U. P. Again

Show Has Played Area Many Years

Spring is here. There is no doubt about it now that Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Skerbeck have arrived from their home in Dorchester, Wis., to take their family carnival on its annual tour of the Upper Peninsula.

The Skerbecks store their merry-go-round, ferris wheel, other rides and equipment at the Upper Peninsula State Fair horse barn over the winter. They are now painting and repairing the equipment in preparation for the show's opening at Stephenson on May 15. Later in May, they will show at Escanaba.

Joseph Skerbeck, 77 years old, and his wife, 68, have been traveling the Upper Peninsula circuit with their small show for many years. Skerbeck has been in the circus and carnival business for 70 years, and first played in Escanaba about 65 years ago.

Wearing his familiar broad-rimmed Stetson, old Joe said he was feeling fine again.

"I have been taking garlic for my high blood pressure, and it really helps me," the old-time showman explained.

Achievement Day Here Saturday

About 550 Delta county boys and girls, members of 4-H clubs, will come to Escanaba on Saturday for the annual 4-H Achievement Day program to be held in the gymnasium of Escanaba Junior High school.

Mel Nyquist, Delta 4-H agent, said members were bringing their exhibits to the high school today and that judging will be held on Friday.

The judges will be Miss Mary Lou Muller, home demonstration agent, and Lester Walcutt, 4-H agent, both of Menominee county.

The public is invited to view the exhibits starting at 8:30 a. m. Saturday. A talent show will be held in the auditorium at 10 a. m., and in the afternoon the dress review will be presented starting at 2:30 o'clock.

Members of about 25 clubs in Delta county will display the work of the past winter in a variety of projects, including handicraft, knitting, radio, tractor maintenance, conservation, clothing and others.

This year the talent show will be held on a state-wide competitive basis, Nyquist announced. Later there will be winners named locally who will compete in the district and, if successful, in the state talent contest.

The public will be interested in viewing the exhibits of project work in the gymnasium, and attending the talent show in the morning and the dress review in the afternoon.

Water Plant Job Assured

$900,000 Revenue
Bonds Are Sold

The Escanaba city council Wednesday afternoon cleared the way for construction of a new water filtration plant by approving the sale of $900,000 in water revenue bonds to finance the project. The council also completed action on the contract with the Pearson Construction company for constructing the plant.

The $900,000 bond issue was awarded to a syndicate headed by Harriman, Ripley & company, Chicago at an interest rate of 2.6307%. The Harriman, Ripley company bid 3% on bonds maturing from 1954 through 1959, 2 1/4% on bonds maturing 1960 through 1975 and 2 3/4% on bonds maturing 1976 through 1981. The bonds for the last 10 years of the 30-year issue are callable bonds. The bid did not offer any premium above par.

Total interest cost of the bond issue, if carried to maturity, is $436,037.50.

Five Bidders

Other bids submitted on the bond issue follow:

B. J. Ingen & Associates, Chicago: Par ($900,000) plus $600 premium, with interest rates of 2 3/4% on bonds maturing 1954 through 1963, 2 1/2% on bonds maturing 1964 through 1971 and 2 3/4% on bonds maturing 1972 through 1981. The net interest rate was 2.6484% and the total interest cost $438,994.

Blyth & Co., Inc., Chicago: Par plus premium of $1,359, with interest rate of 2 3/4% for the entire issue, 1954 through 1981. The net interest rate was 2.7418% but the total interest cost was not computed.

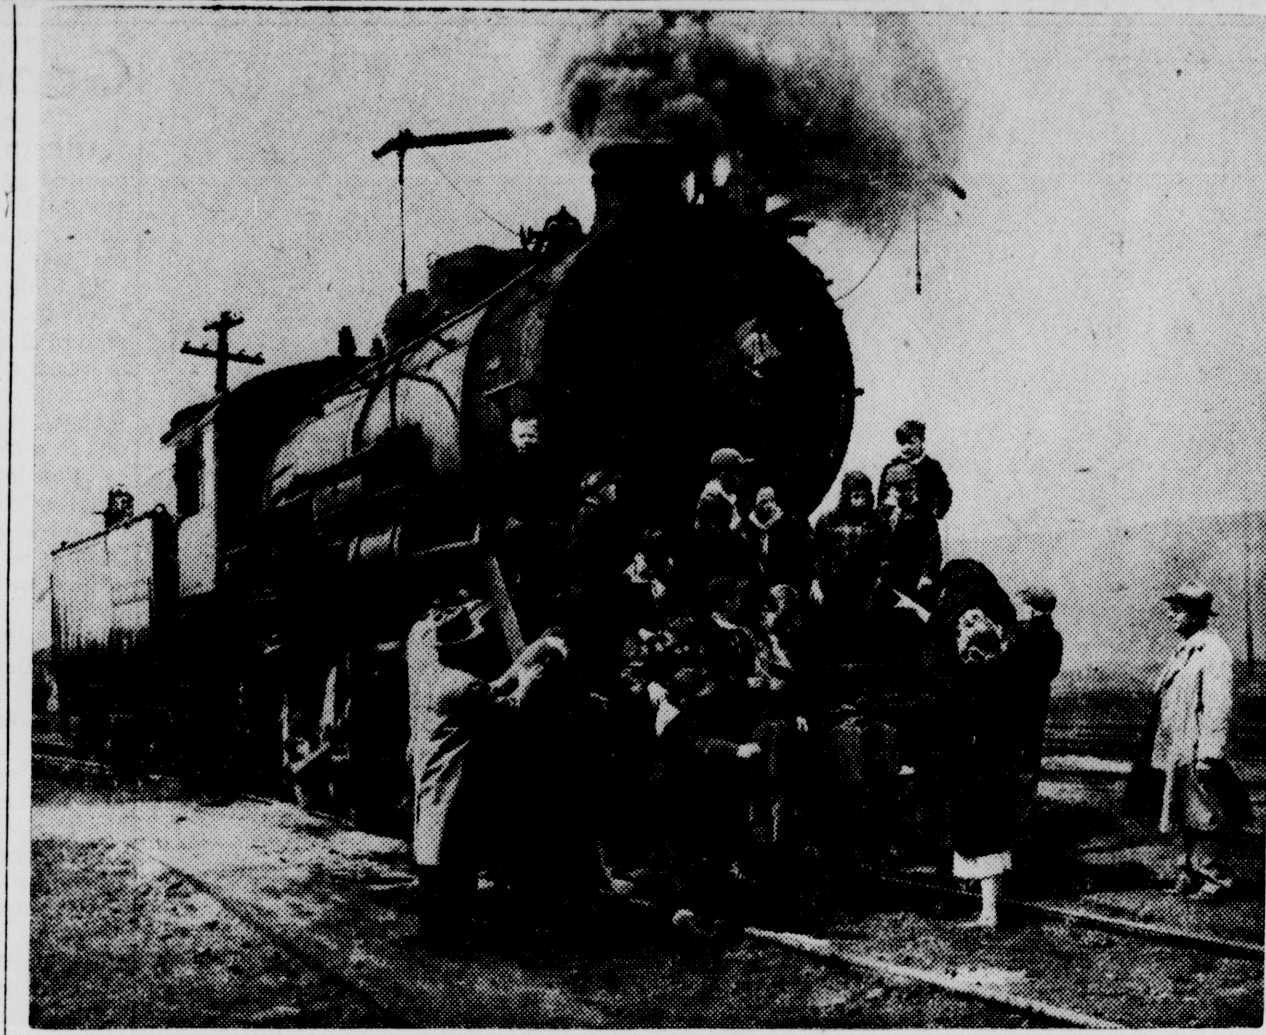

John Nuveen & company, Chicago: Par plus premium of $10.80, with interest rates of 2 3/4% on bonds maturing 1954 through 1963, 2 1/2% on bonds maturing 1964 through 1971 and 2 3/4% on bonds maturing 1972 through 1981. The net interest rate was 2.6848% and total interest cost $445,020.45.

Halsey Stuart & company, Chicago: Par plus premium of $73.80, with interest rates of 2 3/4% on bonds maturing 1954 through 1961, 2 1/2% on bonds maturing 1962 through 1970 and 2 3/4% on bonds maturing 1971 through 1981. The net interest rate was 2.6834%.

Tom Blatchford, representative of Harris Hall & company, Chicago, the city's bond consultants, conducted the opening of the bids.

Start In Three Weeks

Officials of the Pearson Construction company, Saginaw, following the water plant project, advised the city that if the bond bids were rejected, it would be necessary to rebid the construction project as well. Deadline for accepting the construction contract was 12 o'clock midnight last night. Mr. Beale, of Pearson Construction company, said that a new construction bid would be at least $60,000 higher than the bids of six weeks ago and that construction time would be increased from 15 months to 24 months.

OPS Rules On Meat Outlined

Slaughterers Must Put Stamp On Cuts

Effective immediately, all wholesale cuts of meat must be stamped by individual slaughterers with the registration number given them by the Office of Price Stabilization, Everett J. Davis, Grand Rapids district OPS director, announced today.

"Actually April 15 was the deadline for slaughterers to register with the Cleveland Regional OPS office, but a strict enforcement policy has not been followed during the few days after the deadline because of last-minute registrations," Davis said.

"Under the OPS meat distribution program set up by Distribution Order 1, meat not properly stamped with the slaughterer's OPS registration number must be considered illegal meat," Davis said. "Slaughterers who have not registered with OPS and who are continuing to kill and sell meat are operating illegally and are from 15 months to 24 months. City councilmen had expressed the hope that the bond bids would be submitted at an average rate of about 2 1/2%.

After the approval of the construction contract by the council, the contracting firm reported that work would get under way on the water plant project in three weeks.

subject to penalties."

Will Investigate

The enforcement division of the District OPS office is being strengthened at present and investigators will be in the field immediately, Davis warned. Slaughterers will be among the first business groups to be checked on compliance with current OPS orders, he said.

The identification number on each wholesale cut is designed to halt any present or future black market in meat and keep it in normal distribution channels. If a slaughterer has registered and received his registration number, but has not had time to make up a stamp, he must still mark each wholesale cut clearly with his number until such time as he receives his stamp, Davis said.

Slaughterers selling to retailers in Grand Rapids, or in any other community with local meat inspection where each slaughtering establishment uses an inspection stamp will be honored as the OPS registration number for a "very limited period" until the slaughterer has had an opportunity to make up a stamp bearing his own OPS registration number, Davis pointed out.

Must Bear Stamp

"Any retailer receiving meat which does not bear a slaughterer's registration number on all wholesale cuts should immediately notify the slaughterer that he must have the meat properly stamped for the retailer's own protection," Davis emphasized. "It must be remembered that the retailer possessing unstamped meat is in violation, along with his supplier."

He urged unregistered slaughterers, who through ignorance of the regulation have failed to comply with the meat distribution order, to file immediately with the OPS Regional office, 1620 Euclid Avenue, Cleveland, Ohio. The District Office at 148 Ransom Avenue, N. E., Grand Rapids, will be glad to consult with slaughterers, Davis said.

Budgetary Reductions Affect All Phases Of City's Services

INDICATIVE of drastic action necessitated in city departmental budgets for the next fiscal year, due to the city's unfavorable financial situation, is the sharp cuts recommended by the city recreation board for the city recreation department budget. The board suggested a reduction of nearly $9,000 in the department's operating budget for the 1951-52 fiscal year, out of a total departmental request of $36,891, and an additional cut of over $2,000 in the area development fund. The latter fund is supposed to be available for developing recreational facilities but when the financial pinch comes in city affairs, as it so often does, the area development budget is usually the first to get the axe.

What is happening in the city recreation department budget for the coming fiscal year is indicative of the sharp reductions that virtually all city departments will face in the fiscal year ahead. The parks and forestry department may sustain an even larger cut, perhaps as much as 50%.

The approximately $9,000 reduction in the recreation department budget probably will bring howls of protest from those persons who favor recreational projects that must be curtailed. Some will object to retrenchment in the outdoor rink program, others to reduction in the indoor rink operation, still others to cancellation of the dance classes or the city's participation in adult education programs, etc.

Nevertheless, it must be conceded that drastic action is required. It is impossible to reduce the recreation budget by 25% without adversely affecting phases of the program. The city's finances are apparently in such unfavorable circumstances that economies must be effected. Three-fourths of the program still remains intact and that is encouraging.

Charlie Good Tries

To Save Men's Jobs

EFFORTS being made by Charles E. Good, president of the Bay de Noquet Lumber company, to save Nahma from becoming a ghost town is a human interest story that is being featured by newspapers all over the country.

The reason the newspapers are giving it a good play is because it is unusual news. It has been the history of the lumbering regions that whenever the timber supply ran out, the sawmill closed, the people moved away and the community became a ghost town.

Charlie Good has lived in Nahma for years, knows the workers and their families intimately, and doesn't want to see their homes boarded up as has been the fate of dispossessed people in other lumbering towns.

He is one of about fifty-five stockholders of the Bay de Noquet Lumber company. As president, he convinced them that something should be done to find another industry to replace the lumbering operations that have employed about 250 persons.

Charlie Good decided to tell the Nahma story to the whole country in the hope that someone would be induced to buy the entire town and establish an industry there. A national advertising and publicity campaign was launched, and already it has brought about fifty inquiries.

The president of the Bay de Noquet Lumber company is determined to make every effort to locate a substantial industry in Nahma. We wish Charlie Good luck.

Red, White And Blue School Bus May Go

ANOTHER effort is being made in the state legislature to change the official color of school buses from red, white and blue to chrome yellow.

Chrome yellow has become the standard color for school buses traveling the highways in other states. It is argued that the tourists are more likely to recognize the familiar color when they come to Michigan.

There's a little local history to the school bus color proposal. It was a Delta county representative, Peter R. Legg, who sponsored the bill in the state legislature to paint school buses in uniform colors. The veteran schoolmaster proposed the patriotic red, white and blue colors, and the legislature enacted his suggestion into law.

Now another former educator, Senator William Ellsworth of St. Ignace, has introduced a bill to adopt the yellow chrome, which is recommended by the National Bureau of Standards and safety groups. Incidentally, Senator Ellsworth is now in the tourist business, and doubtless has obtained the vacationer's viewpoint in this matter.

Sister's Shoes

There is quite a lengthy story to be told by Sister's shoes, which, when new, were sleek and shiny things which caused her to enthuse. Then she vowed she'd surely care for them as best a girlie could, and because they were so beautiful, she'd wear them just for good. But ere long her resolution went the way of childish things, and the newness of her slippers very soon had taken wings.

First she couldn't quite resist them when arriving home from school, and she thought she'd simply try them on, which wouldn't break her rule. But it wasn't long until some little playmates came to call, and she quite forgot she shouldn't venture far beyond the hall. And from that time on, her twinkling shoes no longer were a prize, though 'twas just as well because she had to have a bigger size.

But those nicks upon each little heel, those scarred and roughened toes, a knotted lace, a punctured sole, and sometimes missing bows, tell the story of your Sister's growth and keep a record bright, of a youth that knows no darkness and is always filled with light. And though Sister doesn't know it, you will take a wornout shoe, and will treasure it with others which portray her life for you.

MARTIN

Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON — When the Senate armed services committee starts sorting out all the memos and telecom messages exchanged between the Pentagon and General MacArthur the public may become more confused than ever about who is right in the big debate.

For several documents and memos prepared during various phases of the Korean campaign—if set aside from the others—could be used to prove almost any point.

Furthermore, it was once a paradoxical fact that Secretary of State Acheson was much closer to General MacArthur's position re China than the joint chiefs of staff. The wolf pack that always howls at Acheson's heels has been claiming he was responsible for MacArthur's ouster. However, the record shows first that this was not the case; second, that following MacArthur's disastrous retreat from North Korea in early December, Acheson favored severe punitive measures against China as an aggressor nation.

However, despite individual and sometimes confusing differences of opinion inside the Pentagon there appears to be no occasion when the joint chiefs of staff actually went on record in favor of MacArthur's proposals to bomb Chinese bases and use Chiang Kai-shek's troops.

MACARTHUR'S PROPOSALS

In order to get as clear a picture as possible regarding the working of the joint chiefs of staff and their policy toward MacArthur, here is a breakdown on how the joint chiefs reacted to various of MacArthur's proposals:

Bombing Chinese Bases—The nearest the joint chiefs ever came to okaying MacArthur's proposed bombing of Chinese bases was on Feb. 28. Just before that date, MacArthur had sent a long report on enemy air strength now capable of 650 sorties daily. He reported certain strength building up in certain areas and in effect asked permission to bomb these bases.

Replying on Feb. 28, the joint chiefs gave MacArthur a set of five alternatives to counter the Chinese moves. Since these would be of value to the enemy, they cannot be described here. But in each of the five alternatives, MacArthur was instructed to take no action on the Chinese side of the Yalu river without reporting back to the joint chiefs for further instructions.

Naval Blockade—Another question at issue in the Korean war has been a naval blockade of Chinese ports. On this, there was agreement. Both the joint chiefs and the state department okayed a naval blockade but it was vetoed by our Allies in the United Nations. This was one of the proposals for which Secretary Acheson fought hardest when Prime Minister Attlee visited Washington. However, Attlee flatly refused to approve any naval blockade of China.

Hot Pursuit—Another point of agreement between MacArthur and the joint chiefs was the right of American planes to pursue Communist planes beyond the Chinese border when engaged in a running battle. This did not include the bombing of Chinese bases. Though the joint chiefs agreed to this, either the state department or the national security council disapproved—I have not been able to ascertain which.

Chiang Kai-shek's Troops — This is the issue which MacArthur emphasized in his letter to Ex-Speaker Joe Martin, the letter which culminated in MacArthur's dismissal. However, use of Chiang's troops never has been seriously considered by the joint chiefs.

General Bradley, chairman of the joint chiefs, has argued that Chiang offered his troops chiefly for the purpose of getting them equipped—which would be terrifically expensive. Furthermore, Adm. Forrest Sherman has pointed out that it would take an armada of American vessels to transport them to China.

WILD PASTURE ROSES

Wild roses are opening their blossoms on rocky hillsides, beside country roads and along rutted lanes that lead to green pastures. There is loveliness in the glowing pink petals and solid centers of bright yellow stamens laden with golden pollen. It is interesting to watch bumblebees alight for they seem to know the fragile petals will not offer sufficient support; therefore the big black and gold bees land directly in the center of the flower.

There is rich history and tradition connected with roses—perhaps the best loved of all earth's flowers. The rose is found in every civilized country of the world and its records go back to pre-Babylonian eras. It is the national flower of England, the official flower of four of our states, and of the District of Columbia. The rose family consists of more than 1,200 species grouped into some 75 genera.

The pasture rose has charm in its very simplicity. The pink coloring is one of the most beautiful hues in all nature. Each evening when dusk drops its curtain, the petals close over the golden stamens and green-gold stigmas; on rainy, chilly and cloudy days the petals remain folded, protecting the vital pollen and the waiting pistils. The bright red "hips" have a pleasant flavor and most country children taste them. In an old English journal it is recorded, "cookies and gentewomen make tartes and such-like dishes for pleasure from the pretty giggles of the fruit."

Now the wild roses are ready. Soon their glowing pink beauty will paint pictures in the sunlight. Song sparrows and other birds will build their nests among the tangled vines; honeybees and butterflies will harvest nectar and pollen. In the hedgerows, among the rocks and in craggy ravines, the beauty of the wild rose is a part of May beauty. A great American composer wrote one of his loveliest compositions to a wild rose. Sweetest of all the roses is the wild one; it is a humble, trailing plant, but in those fragile blossoms one catches a hint that blatant brightness and arresting size are not essential to him who seeks nature's lessons in terms of simple beauty and humble growth.—By Haydn Pearson.

A pessimist is a person who must appear to be unhappy in order to be happy.

DADDY OF THEM ALL! Here is the famous Appian Way, glistening under Italy's golden sun after 2,000 years. It set the style in road building long, long ago.

After 2,000 Years, Men Still Travel On The Appian Way Built By Romans

By WILLIAM ULLMAN

Although the modern motorist likely never gives it a thought, it is never-the-less a diverting fact that the magnificent present-day highways over which he rides in such svelte comfort would astonish the Roman citizen of 2,000 years ago far less than they would the car owner's great-grandfather or grandfather.

That is because the real predecessor of the modern high speed road is to be found in the Appian Way, a boulevard which flourished two millenniums ago, literally went to seed for centuries while Europe slept, and has been revived in all its pristine glory in the age of automobiles.

The Appian Way was the precursor of the hard surface modern highway. Indeed, so amazingly did it anticipate the needs of a new era that it still is in service. Between the Appian Way and the fine highways of the present lies a yawning chasm of bottomless mud through which horses and man struggled for twenty centuries.

Monument to Romans

Uncle Sam recognizes his debt to the Roman highway engineers, who occupied in their day the same pre-eminence now held by American road builders. To show his appreciation, and for important practical purposes as well, he has, through the Federal Public Roads Administration, constructed a model of that most enduring of all highways. Methods of building the road are shown in detail as well as authentic facts about the traffic on it. Extensive investigation by experts has revealed exact information as to design, typical methods of construction, and the various types of traffic on the road.

Most interesting to the motorist of today undoubtedly will be the findings with respect to the traffic on the Appian Way. Uncle Sam's highway researchers point out that the chariot probably was the vehicle most commonly used by the ancient Romans. Its greatest use was as a instrument of war, but the lightness of its construction made it extremely well suited to relatively high speed travel on the roads. Drawn by two or more horses, it was fitted with two wheels and was built to carry the driver and one passenger. A sort of primitive sport roadster, one might say.

Other vehicles which the traveler along the Appian Way would be likely to encounter ranged from the luxurious litter (lectia), through the humble radda, or family coach, and still more humble wagon, or plastrum. The lectia was carried by slaves with the aid of poles probably run through rings attached to the body of the litter or perhaps attached by cords or thongs. The litter bearers, we learn, usually were Syrian or Cappadocian slaves, dressed in bright red traveling cloaks often made of fine wool from Canusium. In and near cities slaves preceded the lectia to clear the way with the words "Give place to my lord."

Then there was the carpentum, a two-wheeled carriage used by families for travel and by women on state occasions; and the pack animal, the poor man's method of traveling with a small amount of baggage in panniers supported by the pack saddle.

Familiar figures on the Way were carriers of the imperial post and members of the Roman infantry, who were permitted to walk either in the central roadway or upon the side roads. An excellent promenade for the commanding officer was provided by the side curb. Then, as now, curb stones were the favorite resting places for beggars and loafers.

Romans Had Road Signs

Spaced one thousand Roman paces apart, the imperial engineers placed the equivalent of the modern milestone. It is pointed out that in the vicinity of Rome these markers represented the distance from the golden mile stone erected by Augustus in the Roman forum to mark the origin of all the great military roads.

Beyond one hundred miles from Rome and in the provinces the markers showed the distance to the nearest principal town—which is not a little reminder of our modern guideposts.

Although at present our ideas of highway beautification do not go quite so far, we still may come to the Roman custom of bordering the roads outside principal cities with monuments, tombs, and mausoleums.

Avoiding the technical details of construction of the Appian Way—details which investigators have analyzed to the last degree—it may be pointed out that the total thickness of the four courses of the road varied from three feet to four-and-one-half feet. Which provides a really substantial reason for the apparently limitless endurance of this wonder road of both the ancient and modern worlds. The over-all width of the Way at the surface was about thirty-six feet.

When the Barbarian hordes swept out of the North and finally rent the rotten fabric of the Roman State, Europe entered that period which historians call the Dark Ages. The Appian Way fell into disuse but, although it crumbled in some places, on the whole it remained through the centuries as living proof of the grandeur that was Rome.

Still Used Today

Europe gradually awakened from its long sleep, but the passing centuries, which saw the revival of learning, the arts, and the development of science, still witnessed but little improvement in Europe's inadequate system of roads. The Appian Way marked a high point from which man receded, and which was not reached and passed until modern times when an entirely new mode of transportation demanded an ever lengthening mileage of high speed, hard surface roads.

So the Appian Way continues in use today, testifying to the amazingly enduring quality of the work of the Roman engineers. Motorists interested in seeing actual models of it, prepared by the Public Roads Administration, may do so at any of three noted American museums. One model is on display at the National Museum in Washington; another at the New York Museum of Science and Industry, New York City, and the third at the Rosenwald Museum of Science and Industry, Chicago.

It seems fitting, indeed, that in America, where the Roman ideal of the most extensive possible network of fine highway has been carried out more completely than anywhere else in the world, such full official recognition should be made of our debt to the Appian Way.

Sincerely yours,

Albert S. Heustis, M. D.

Disillusioned

Dear Editor:

In regards to the recent dismissal of our commander in the Far East, General Douglas MacArthur I would like to report on how my fellow students and myself feel about it. As a whole we have been badly disillusioned. We have always regarded General MacArthur as being like The Rock Of Gibraltar, strong and impregnable.

We have lost faith in our government. We no longer think of the United States as being the strong and freedom loving country it once was regarded as being. My fellow students are continually throwing insults at our president we got the idea mainly from newspaper editorials and news broadcasts over the radio criticizing our government. And some we figured out for ourselves.

Most people think that school pupils do not follow the news very often. These people would be surprised if they knew how faithfully some of us younger fellows follow the news!

Good Evening . . .

By CLINT DUNATHAN

THE CIRCULAR STAIR — The gray-painted stairway to the court room on the second floor of the court house at Escanaba has resounded to the tread of many feet within the past week.

Leading from the hallway on the first floor, the stairs rise in a semi-circle to the second floor, where in circuit court a jury is hearing the contest of the John P. Norton will. Near the stair rail the steps are inch-wide, and near the wall they widen out to a foot or more.

You must watch your step on those stairs. They are tricky. And in the court room above careful legal steps are being taken as the Norton case draws toward the close of the second week.

GROWING INTEREST—The discomfort of the Delta county court house, its old-fashioned inconvenience, is noteworthy. Many people are experiencing that discomfort for the first time. Some of those persons are members of the jury, others are witnesses, and some are spectators to the trial.

Witnesses called to testify sit on hard benches or chairs in the lower hall or the anteroom before the double doors leading to the court room. They wait to be called, some nervously, others in resigned discomfort.

Spectators come and go, many of them encouraged to leave by the hardness of the old-fashioned seats. Whether they stay is of small importance, so far as the trial is concerned.

THE GREATER LACK—It is important, however, that the Delta county court house does lack the usual chambers to which the judge may retire for a few minutes relaxation while court is in recess.

When the judge leaves the court room to disappear through a side door to the left of the bench he does not enter a room that has either privacy or comfort.

Just off the court room is a small cubicle, perhaps no larger than a large closet. A telephone extension from the clerk's office on the first floor is located there.

Connected with the cubicle is another room about ten feet wide and twelve feet long, and off that is a very small toilet room with plumbing that was new back in the 1890's.

Actually there are no judge's chambers in the Delta county court house. Members of the bar and the judge share the "privacy" of the rooms in which is located the only phone on the second floor of the court house. Any conference the court may attempt to hold is more than likely to be interrupted by apologetic individuals who barge in and hurriedly back out.

THERE IS NO WAY — Apparently the people of Delta county and county officials have become resigned to the inadequacies of their court house.

There is no way the court house can be made over to the satisfaction of anyone. Talk of constructing a new court house has faded out of the picture.

One of the impossibilities is financing such a project from county funds. After the county annually meets operating expense and pays out approximately $50,000 a year for welfare (last year it was $65,000 from the county plus about $15,000 from the townships) there is nothing left for improvement of the court house or any other county building.

FOR HOW LONG—The Delta county court house was constructed in 1892. It looks it both inside and out.

How long it will last as a building housing the seat of county government is anybody's guess. Probably with careful nursing it may last another seventy years. Meanwhile it is failing in its primary function—the housing of county government.

The office of the county school superintendent is in the county-owned Webster annex building, the county road commission has its office at Wells, the county health department is in the Webster annex, the county welfare department is in rented space on Ludington street, there is no space in the court house for the office of prosecuting attorney of the county.

There is over-crowding in two offices in the court house. The county agricultural agent, 4-H agent, home demonstration agent and stenographer are in one small room; the office of the probate and juvenile judge has no conference room. The probate judge often confers in the office vault with one individual while others wait in his office.

Columbus: I have just finished reading an article by Dr. Irving Lorge, of Columbia university, which states that according to a study of five million words it was found that the word "rum" has 800 meanings. Please convey to me the opinion of your assistant, Dr. Etain Shrdlu, and tell me whether that is true.—T. W. G.

A. My fuddy-duddy old assistant gave me quite a shock today. As a rule there is nothing he likes so well as mulling over millions of words. But he tells me that in this instance he is inclined to take Dr. Lorge's word for it rather than make a personal survey. Must be virus X.

Toledo: What punctuation mark should go at the end of a sentence like this: "I wonder where they bought that car"—a question mark?—M. C.

A. No; the sentence is not interrogative. It makes a simple statement that is equivalent to: I should like to know where they bought that car. The sentence should end with a period.

Public Health Units Proposed

Security Agency Sets Up Plan For State

WASHINGTON — (AP) — The federal security agency suggests setting up 41 local public health units to serve Michigan's 83 counties.

A minimum of 124 physicians and 1,138 nurses to staff these health units is proposed by the agency.

In a report this week, the agency sought to show how regional planning would enable general hospitals and local health departments to work together for better health in every community.

Federal Security Administrator Oscar R. Ewing said the publication is intended as a guide rather than a blueprint.

However, he said, the study can "enable health officers, hospital planners and state and local administrators to visualize how a coordinated pattern of hospitals and health departments could fit their own needs and make possible a superior type of health protection for citizens of their communities."

In mapping out health unit areas, the agency says they are each designed to serve a population of no less than 35,000 and are drawn to fit the pattern of existing or proposed hospitals and health centers.

The units suggested for Upper Michigan, the counties they would serve and the recommended number of physicians and nurses listed in that order:

Unit 1, Gogebic, Iron and Ontonagon, 1 and 13; 2, Baraga, Houghton and Keweenaw, 1 and 12; 3, Marquette, 1 and 10; 4, Dickinson and Menominee, 1 and 11; 5, Alger, Delta and Schoolcraft, 1 and 9.

Escanaban Attends Chicago Meeting

John Kallman, Jr., of the Sinclair Refining company left for Chicago on Wednesday to attend Sinclair's mid-west sales convention in the grand ballroom of the Hotel Sherman on April 27 and 28.

The two-day convention directed by Sheldon Clark, senior vice-president, will be attended by 1000 of Sinclair's branch managers, bailee-agents and sales representatives residing in Illinois, Indiana, Michigan, Ohio and Wisconsin.

Percy Craig Spencer, president of Sinclair Oil corporation, will be the honored guest and chief speaker. Spencer succeeded Harry F. Sinclair as president in 1949.

Doc Does Sewing Job On Fighter

NEW YORK — (AP) — Chico Vejar, the unbeaten Stamford, Conn., schoolboy, didn't flatten Billy Murphy of Brooklyn last night at St. Nicholas arena but he put him on the shelf for some time.

Murphy's cuts required considerable sewing by Dr. Vincent Nardiello, New York state athletic commission physician. The Doc was busy stitching bloody Billy for some time after their eight-round battle. Worst of all were the slices around his lips and right eyelid.

With 1,545 paid fans, young Vejar, 14½, did a workmanlike job on Murphy, 13½, an experienced foe who had fought tougher opponents.

Michigan Teams Take To The Road

ANN ARBOR — (AP)—Michigan athletes hit the road today.

Ray Fisher's winless baseball squad heads for Iowa City for Friday and Saturday games with Iowa. The Wolverine trackmen go to the Drake relays, the unbeaten tennis squad faces Illinois Friday and Purdue Saturday, and the golfers take on Purdue Saturday.

Beaten twice by Illinois in its only previous Big Ten starts, Michigan figures to have a poor baseball season unless it can improve its hitting and pitching to a par with its defensive ability.

Track coach Don Canham is sinning his hopes on four relay teams in the two day affair at Drake.

Charles Richmond Of Trenary Dies

Charles Richmond, 82, of Trenary, died Friday afternoon at Munising hospital following a two year illness.

He was born in Algoma, Wis., March 23, 1869, and lived in Flint before moving to Trenary 8 years ago. He was a painter, paper hanger and carpenter by trade.

Surviving are two daughters, Mrs. Frank Richmond of Trenary and Mrs. Elmer Hursh of Los Angeles, three sons, Charles of Flint, Clifford and Donald of Los Angeles, 10 grandchildren and 3 great grandchildren.

Funeral services were held at the Trenary Methodist church of which he was a member and burial was in Trenary cemetery.

Sales Tax Diversion Payments Mailed Out; Total $9,903,129

LANSING — (AP)—The auditor general's office mailed $9,903,129 to local governments today, representing the third quarter sales tax diversion payments and adjustments of monies due under the new 1950 census.

A year ago the distribution was $8,042,622. The money is sent to the counties to be redistributed to cities, villages and townships.

The distribution by counties: Alger, $15,958; Baraga, $12,349; Chippewa, $45,959; Delta, $51,106; Dickinson, $39,004; Houghton, $61,878; Iron, $27,263; Keweenaw, $4,533; Luce, $12,627; Mackinac, $15,125; Marquette, $73,472; Menominee, $39,098; Ontonagon, $15,843; Schoolcraft, $14,136.

Publishers Have Union Troubles

Locals Losing Right For Free Dickers

NEW YORK — (AP)—Labor relations between newspapers and their employees "are becoming increasingly difficult," the American newspaper publishers association was told today.

The reason for this, said a report by the ANPA's special standing committee, is that local unions "are steadily losing their right to freely negotiate" because of control by their parent bodies.

The report was presented to the approximately 1,200 publishers and newspaper editors on the final day of the ANPA's 65th annual convention.

Election of officers is scheduled this afternoon. ANPA vice president C. F. McCall, of the Cleveland News, is expected to succeed a president Edwin S. Friendly, a vice president of the New York World Telegram and Sun.

The affair winds up tonight with an address by defense mobilizer Charles E. Wilson at a dinner of the ANPA's bureau of advertising in the grand ballroom of the Waldorf-Astoria hotel.

The standing committee's report said that "each year the international laws and policies of most international unions restrict the freedom of local bargaining."

This "is especially true" in the International Typographical union, the report said. It termed the ITU "the main force that is killing local negotiations."

"The newspaper is a local institution," the report added. "But the average union is a local group manifestly controlled by an international institution."

As a result, edicts imposed by the parent groups "are not designed to meet local requirements," and they thereby set up obstacles to sound labor relations, the committee's report said.

Young Arthur May Divide Allegiance

NEW YORK — (AP)—Thirteen-year-old Arthur MacArthur probably will bat 1,000 with every baseball-minded kid in America—he's been hobnobbing in the dressing room of the world champion New York Yankees.

The son of the general went to Yankee stadium yesterday. Dan Topping, president of the Bronx Bombers, gave Arthur a Yankee cap and took him into the dressing room to meet the players before the Yankee-Athletics game.

The quiet, courteous Arthur lost his shy reserve for a moment after he saw an old friend, Joe DiMaggio. Arthur and Joe had met in Tokyo when DiMaggio and a group of ball players toured the Pacific military bases.

Joe gave the boy an autographed bat.

Arthur's eyes sparkled.

"Gee, for me?" he cried. "Gee, thanks!"

A few days ago, young Arthur hobnobbed with the Giants.

Alger Woman Is Honored On MBS Radio Program

A nationwide radio audience yesterday heard an honor bestowed on an Alger county resident, Mrs. Arthur Tulloch of Grand Marais, who is the newest winner of the coveted "Golden Rule Award" for good neighborliness and community service.

Announcement of Mrs. Tulloch's award was made on the "Tell Your Neighbor" radio program, broadcast over Station WDBC, Escanaba, and the entire network of the Mutual Broadcasting System.

Included with Mrs. Tulloch's citation were a specially engraved certificate of membership in the Golden Rule club, and a flatware silver plate service for eight.

The "Golden Rule Award" was made to Mrs. Tulloch on the nomination of Mrs. Felix Pearson, of Wells, who forwarded Mrs. Tulloch's distinguished record of community service to the "Tell Your Neighbor" awards committee.

The winner has devoted her life to helping the young people in her community, Mrs. Pearson stated in her letter of nomination. For many years, Mrs. Tulloch has undertaken social activities in order to raise money for the graduating classes of the Grand Marais high school. The funds have been used for educational purposes as well as for pleasure.

During the past four years, the entire graduating classes have visited Washington, D. C., and Mrs. Tulloch's tireless efforts have helped to make these trips possible. Not only does she entertain every graduating class in her home, but she also plays hostess to other groups of young people, such as the Sunday school classes and Camp Fire Girls.

Guatemala Denies Red Infiltration

GUATEMALA, Guatemala.—(AP)—A U. S. ambassador's claim that Communists have infiltrated the Guatemalan government "to a serious extent" was branded as "entirely false" last night by Foreign Minister Manuel Galich.

The statement was made during a broadcast in Washington Tuesday by Richard C. Patterson, Jr., former ambassador to Guatemala, who is now envoy to Switzerland. Patterson said the Communists had worked their way into the Guatemalan government to such a degree that they "exert an influence entirely out of proportion to their numbers."

Loan Of U. S. Grain To India Approved

WASHINGTON — (AP)—The House rules committee has approved a plan to provide famine-stricken India with $190,000,000 worth of American grain on a loan basis.

This measure, agreed to yesterday, differs from a Senate foreign relations committee plan which would provide half the grain as a gift and the other half as a loan.

House leaders said the bill will be given top priority for floor debate next week. The Senate may take up its version Friday.

Williams Lists Defense Budget

Legislature Asked To Provide $7,169,192

LANSING — (AP)—Governor Williams sent a special message to the legislature today asking $7,169,192 for the state's participation in the national defense program.

His request included $6,681,050 for the Office of Civil Defense, $380,000 to add 250 men to the state police and $128,142 to the department of economic development to help small business obtain war sub-contracts and otherwise promote Michigan industry.

The civil defense budget included $1,959,250 as the state's share of fire-fighting, communications and medical equipment. It anticipates $2,907,500 from the federal government and $1,782,850 from local governments in addition.

Williams asked $3,500,000 to extend the state's mass blood-typing program to cover 3,000,000 more citizens.

He requested $250,000 to train civil defense volunteers, asserting "raw courage, without organization or knowledge of the precise job to be done by each of us, will not avail."

The budget included $516,800 to organize 20 mobile support groups and $500,000 for studies of bomb shelters.

Debut As Actress Comes Tonight For Margaret Truman

HOLLYWOOD — (AP)—Margaret Truman makes her professional acting debut tonight.

The president's singing daughter will have a vast, unseen audience as she plays opposite Jimmy Stewart in "Jackpot," on the Screen Director's Playhouse, over NBC at 10 p. m. (Eastern Standard Time.)

Miss Truman has been in rehearsal since her arrival here Monday.

Her manager, Jim Davidson, said several feelers have been put out to have her do a movie in the late summer. Her debut tonight might be considered something of a test of her movie possibilities.

"Jackpot" is a comedy. Miss Truman is cast as the wife of a department store executive who wins scores of prizes on a radio quiz show, and the plot revolves around what happens to her husband (Stewart) and their two children.

Hunter Who Killed Woman For Bear Gets Year At St. Ignace

St. Ignace, Mich.—(AP)—A Michigan hunter who claimed he shot at a bear but killed a woman was sentenced today to one to 15 years imprisonment for involuntary manslaughter.

He is Harold Eugene McNeill, 26, of Greenville, convicted last night by a Mackinac county circuit court jury. Judge Howard L. Gambell recommended in sentencing McNeill that he be required to serve only a year.

The victim was Mrs. Marie L. Hardgrove, 56, of Alma, shot Nov. 17—the second day of the 1950 deer and bear season—near Curtis.

The jury deliberated from 4:30 to 10:30 p. m. before reaching a verdict.

McNeill claimed he shot at a bear and didn't see the woman, who was within range but out of sight.

The state, alarmed because of an unusually large number of hunting accidents during the 1950 season, sent assistant attorney general Meredith H. Doyle here to assist in the prosecution of McNeill.

Trouble In Iran Might Bring Rationing Of Gas

By MARQUIS CHILDS
WASHINGTON — The world simply refuses to stand still while we carry on our own civil war here at home. We may decline to take notice of what is happening while we prosecute our own quarrels. But somehow, sooner or later, events have a way of hitting us smack in the face. All the shouting and confusion in a distant part of the world called Iran may seem to have next to nothing to do with what goes on in Main street and Fifth avenue. The developing breakdown over Iran's oil wealth and who is to exploit it has already put up to top policy makers here a grave problem.

The oil from Iran is absolutely essential to keep Western Europe's industry going. Already Iranian strikes and riots have cut about 500,000 barrels a day from total shipments to Europe. The Western European powers that are part of the North Atlantic pact have put an informal request up to the United States to help them obtain this amount elsewhere.

U. S. Supply Short
In the present boom, however, with huge expenditures for rearmament about to begin, petroleum products are already tight in the United States. In order to find the 500,000 barrels there will have to be a pooling agreement of available resources outside the trouble zone.

This may be possible, since the amount measured against total world production is comparatively small. But if the deterioration in Iran continues and it becomes necessary to try to find a million and a half or two million barrels a day for Europe, then the squeeze will really be on.

To supply the amount necessary to keep Europe's industry going—with Iran out of the picture—would mean the strictest kind of gas rationing for all civilian use throughout Europe. And it would also mean some form of gas rationing for this country. The deficit could not be made up with-famine arising in considerable part out of drouth, floods and earthquakes. Action seems nearer now but it is still likely to be months before the essential grain is loaded on ships to be taken from the mothball fleet.

The relationship here between American aid — or inaction — and the spread of breakdown and the rise of Communism in Asia needs no pointing up. But as in Iran, this country has a direct stake in stability. Last year 34 percent of the Manganese brought into the United States came from India, which was our largest foreign supplier. We get 90 percent of this mineral, vital as a kind of cement in each ton of steel, from abroad.

Breakdown in India could quickly affect the supply of an indispensable commodity. This country cannot live alone and like it, without friends, without Allies, without sources of vital materials we do not have.

Whether a relatively objective investigation of the MacArthur controversy is possible, one may doubt. Whether anyone on either side will be convinced is also doubtful. But it is certain that if

Heating Of Air In U. P. Mines Is Described

Heating the ventilating air before it is blown into the mines to prevent icing and closing of air shafts is a common practice in cold winter months at several underground iron ore mines on the Mesabi Range in Michigan, according to an information circular issued today by the Bureau of Mines. Two main types of heating plants in use at the Michigan mines are described in the circular.

Outside temperatures in the Iron River area range as low as 47 degrees below zero in the winter months, the circular points out. When below-freezing air is forced into the ventilating shafts, some of which are exceptionally wet, ice forms in the shafts. Unless preventive measures are taken, the shafts will close entirely.

In many mines, this ice is melted by reversing the ventilating current and drawing warm air from the mine up the usual down-draft air shaft. At the Michigan mines investigated, intermittent freezing and thawing of ice formed in the shafts tended to loosen the wall rock, requiring major shaft repairs, it was shown, and one large operating company found it more convenient and economical to heat the fresh air during cold weather.

In describing the types of heating plants—the steam-heat type and the hot air type—operated by this company (The M. A. Hanna Company), the Bureau of Mines points out that the purpose of the report is "to cover the operating idea rather than to discuss the technical details of design and airflow."

Coal is the fuel used to heat the air in both types of plants, according to the circular. In the steam-heat type, fresh cold air is drawn through steam-heated coils and forced into the shaft by a fan. In the hot air type, cold air is drawn into the circulatory ducts of a

Son Of New Michigan Senator Moody Only Wants Bow And Arrow

WASHINGTON — (AP) — Little Robin Moody just wants to know whether his daddy is going to bring him that bow and arrow.

You see, Robin has been campaigning for that for a couple of weeks and Monday his daddy, Blair Moody, was in Lansing, Mich., and was appointed to the United States Senate from Michigan.

Mrs. Moody told a reporter of the reaction of herself, young Robin, who is four, and Christopher, 8, to her husband's appointment to succeed the late Senator Arthur H. Vandenberg.

"It doesn't even yet seem real," said Mrs. Moody. "I'm so pleased for Blair. There's no question in my mind about what kind of a senator he will make. I'm a little scared for myself."

Fayette

Honored At Shower

FAYETTE—A pink and blue shower was given for Mrs. Lyle Bouchard at the town hall Tuesday evening. Prizes in card games were won by Mrs. Joseph Lineske first, Mrs. Harold Stern second and Mrs. Phil Bouchard consolation. The guest award was received by Mrs. Martin Thill. After lunch the honor guest opened and acknowledged the many lovely gifts. Those attending from out-of-town were Mrs. Nora Lester and Mrs. Myrtle Halvorson of Garden, Mrs. Philip Bouchard of Cooks and Mrs. Adeline Bouchard of Manistique.

Hopewarming Party

Members of the Congregational Women's Fellowship arranged a surprise visit to Mrs. Edmund Laux at her new home Wednesday evening, singing visiting and reminiscing before closing the pleasant fellowship with potluck lunch.

Correction

In the report of a shower party last week the guest of honor should have read Mrs. Gordon Barbeau instead of Mrs. Richard Barbeau.

Personals

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Brooks and daughter of Rose Hill, Ill., came Wednesday to visit Mrs. Brooks' father, Colin Greene and other relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Farley of Garden visited at the home of their daughter, Mrs. Henry Jacobsen Sunday and with their grandson, Peter who had a severe cold.

"What impressed me more than anything else all day has been the wonderful comments that have come in from all our friends—Republicans and Democrats."

Robin, who came home from nursery school to be told of his daddy's appointment, "had absolutely no reaction. He just wanted to know if daddy would bring that bow and arrow."

Moody and Gov. G. Mennen Williams, who appointed him, are old friends. Mrs. Moody said her husband and the governor greeted each other Saturday at Senator Vandenberg's funeral in Grand Rapids.

"Then things worked up fast over the weekend to a crescendo," she added.

Mrs. Moody married her husband in 1940. The first Mrs. Moody was granted an absolute divorce in March 1940. In addition to the two boys at home here, Moody has a son, Blair, Jr., 23, who is in his second year of law at the University of Michigan.

Back In Good Graces, Composer Prokofieff Honored In Moscow

MOSCOW—(AP)—Composer Sergei Prokofieff, once criticized for being influenced by American jazz, was honored in absentia on his 60th birthday by a concert of his works at the Moscow conservatory.

Although ill health apparently prevented the creator of "Peter and the Wolf" from attending, many other prominent Russians, including famed composer Dmitri Shostakovich, were there.

Prokofieff, once officially criticized for foreign influences of his music, is now back in the good graces of Soviet critics. He recently received a Stalin prize for his vocal symphonic suite "Winter Bonfire" and his oratorio "Guarding Peace."

Revolutionary as it seems here, mothers have been doing it for hundreds of years in other parts of the world. (AP Photo)

Nelson Rockefeller Gives Michigan State Commencement Speech

Helping the nation get things done for 75 years

This year is the telephone's seventy-fifth and busiest birthday.

What began as a line between two rooms in a Boston attic in 1876 has developed, in one lifetime, into a Long Distance network that covers the nation—and extends to most of the world's telephones.

This great system has grown in answer to the needs of a people. And it's a good thing it has. In these threatening times, the Long Distance lines that bind this country together are more vital than ever.

For today they are helping to speed production and guard the nation's security—jobs that call for nothing less than the best telephone service in the world.

William Kallio Awarded Michigan State Scholarship

CHATHAM—William J. Kallio, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Kallio of Chatham, senior in Rock River high school at Eben, has been awarded a Michigan State college scholarship for the 1951-52 year. Professor A. J. Clark, chairman of the M.S.C. scholarship committee has announced. It is one of 406 such scholarships awarded Michigan high school seniors in 70 counties.

These scholarships are awarded on the basis of an honor scholastic average, financial need and good extra curricular activities in high school. The scholarship covers total course fees at Michigan State college for one year and may be renewed yearly for a total of four years if the student maintains a high scholastic average.

William is an honor student in Rock River high school and star center on the high school basketball team.

Mrs. George Lelvis and Mrs. Arthur Wolcott represented the Rock River PTA at the state convention in Ironwood this week.

Homemakers' Club
The Chatham Homemakers' extension club met at the Experiment Station office Monday evening. The lesson on altering patterns was given by Mrs. Michael Malnor and Mrs. George Kallio. Another lesson on the same topic will be given later.

Personals
Mrs. Russell Horwood left Monday to attend the state P.T.A. convention being held this week in Ironwood.

Robert Hamel, seventh grade teacher, is confined to his home with measles. Mrs. George Kallio is substituting for him.

Bernard Hill, Stanley Hill, Victoria Hill, Leroy Ayotte, and Mrs. Howard Humphreys and family, of Pontiac, visited relatives here last weekend.

Matt Maki, who recently completed a milk testers short course at Michigan State college, has returned to his home here. He will be employed at the Chatham co-op, replacing Clifford Johnson, who resigned recently.

Harry Backman, manager of the Chatham cooperative store, suffered second degree burns on his hands last Friday, when accumulated bottle gas fumes from a bottle gas heater in a meat smoke house exploded. He was attempting to relight the burner after it had gone out. He is a patient at St. Luke's hospital, Marquette.

Miss Martha Van Stratten and Miss Esther Kiefas spent last weekend visiting relatives and friends in Marquette.

Mr. and Mrs. John Hicks of Trenary visited Mr. and Mrs. Larry Barker Saturday.

Rock PTA Names Officers For Year

ROCK — New officers were elected for the coming term at the Rock P.T.A. meeting held Monday evening April 23. Those elected are: Mrs. Clara Horgan, president; Osmo Aalto, first vice president; Mrs. John Berg, second vice president; Mrs. William Johnson, secretary; Mrs. Arne Johnson, treasurer; Mrs. John Jokela, historian.

Installation of the new officers will take place at the next meeting to be held Monday, May 21. The committee chairmen also will be appointed later.

The program for the evening was in charge of Joyce Johnson and consisted of the 4-H club girls modeling the clothes they had made. Judges were Miss Ingrid Tervonen and Melvin Nyquist of Escanaba. Announcement of the winners will be made on ty agents Farm Crops school here at Camp Shaw next weekend.

Mr. and Mrs. William Spence and son Wilbert of Sandusky, Ohio, arrived here last Thursday to make arrangements for selling their home here. The house has been purchased by Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Johnson, who will move the end of the week.

Serious Illness Hits

Murray, Head Of CIO

PITTSBURGH — (AP) — Philip Murray, 64-year-old head of the CIO and of the United Steelworkers, is reported seriously ill. His office said he was stricken Sunday night with acute inflammation of the pancreas after a trip to Youngstown.

Attendants at Mercy hospital said Murray's condition was fair.

Last February Murray suffered a virus attack, spent a week in a hospital at Washington, then rested for a few weeks in Florida.

First yacht club in America was organized at Poughkeepsie, N. Y., in 1861, and held regattas and races on the Hudson River.

WOULD DECLARE WAR — Sen. Harry P. Cain (R., Wash.), above, wants the Senate formally to declare war against Red China "to find out where we are and where, in God's name, we are going." Cain said his war resolution would focus public attention on what he calls President Truman's policy of negotiating peace "on the enemy's terms."

Stonington

Mrs. Edwin Coyle and daughter Stephanie, of Chicago, left yesterday to return to their home. They visited Mrs. Coyle's mother, Mrs. Otto Reinholdson.

NEW YORK — (AP) — Underfed Chico Vejar rates a big favorite to chalk up his 28th straight victory tonight against hard-hitting Billy Murphy in the main eight rounder at St. Nicholas arena. The 19-year old Stamford (Conn.) schoolboy sensation has won all 27 of his pro starts, 17 of them by knockouts.

KIDNEYS MUST REMOVE EXCESS WASTE

Nagging backache, loss of pep and energy, headaches and dizziness may be due to slow-down of kidney function. Doctors say good kidney function is very important to good health. When some everyday condition, such as stress and strain, causes this important function to slow down, many folks suffer nagging backaches—feel miserable. Minor bladder irritations due to cold or wrong diet may cause getting up nights or frequent passages. Don't neglect your kidneys if these conditions bother you. Try Doan's Pills—a mild diuretic. Used successfully by millions for over 50 years. It's amazing how many times Doan's give happy relief from these discomforts—help the 15 miles of kidney tubes and filters flush out waste. Get Doan's Pills today!

Nervous, Run Down Housewife Now Sings at Her Work

HADACOL Relieves Fatigue and Nervousness When Caused by a Lack of Vitamins B₁, B₂, Niacin and Iron

It's not easy to get your housework done, be pleasant, when every little noise grates on your nerves. By the end of the day you're so tired, frazzled, and at your wit's end, life seems hardly worthwhile. This is just what happened to Mrs. C. M. Moody, 940 Hinton Street, Petersburg, Virginia. She'd heard about HADACOL, however, heard how it could help nervousness, when due to a lack of Vitamins B₁, B₂, Niacin and Iron. She decided to try this wonderful formula and see if it could give her the same help it had so many other folks she knew. The results of this test speak for themselves. Won't you let her tell you about it in her own words?

She says: "I was so nervous and rundown, could not stand the least noise. So, I tried HADACOL, and, after my first large bottle, I am lots better. Thanks to HADACOL I can now sing at my work. I cannot praise HADACOL enough and you bet I recommend HADACOL to all my friends and neighbors. You may use my letter if you like. I will be truly thankful if my letter helps someone else. So, thanks to HADACOL I am feeling fine."

That's how the story goes, over and over again from honest, sincere folks like Mrs. Moody. You just can't doubt what you hear and read about so often. So if you are subject to nervousness, fatigue, that run down feeling, when due to a lack of Vitamins B₁, B₂, Niacin and Iron, why don't you give HADACOL a chance to help.

For it is just such deficiencies that HADACOL has been especially compounded to overcome. These vital elements, plus helpful quantities of Phosphorus and Calcium, are in a special liquid form already dissolved, for quick, sure absorption in your system.

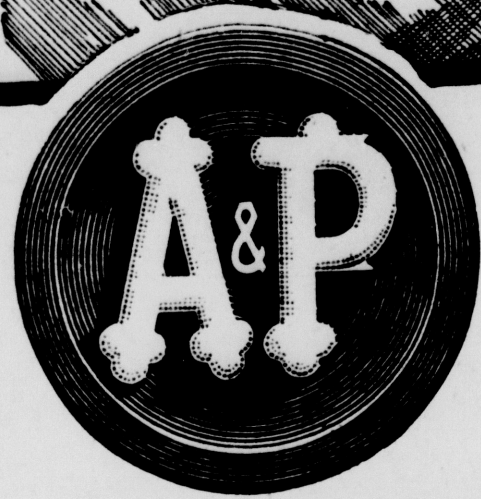

Try it today...you, too, will be saying that only HADACOL gives you the "Wonderful Hadaacol Feeling!" You don't risk a penny to find out what it can do for you, because HADACOL is covered by a strict money-back guarantee. Recommended by many doctors, too. At your druggist: Only $1.25 for the trial size; only $3.50 for the large economy family size.

The 4-H girls modeled the skirts, blouses and dresses they made during the year and the exhibit included first and second year handicraft, sewing and knitting.

Merry Tales On Story Hour Program

Story hour at 10 Saturday morning in the children's room of Carnegie public library will feature tales of merriment. Miss Betty M. Harris, children's librarian, will tell the story of "The Cat Who Couldn't" and the tale of "The Raincoat That Went to Lunch." All boys and girls in the community are invited to attend these story hours which will be held until school closes.

She is Princess Dayan Djavidan, born June 15, 1877, in Philadelphia, the youngest daughter of an expatriate Austrian princely family. Her mother was Vetter De Lys, a close relative of the regal Bourbons.

For 69 years of her life she lived in the upper crusts of international society. For 17 of those years she was the wife of the ruler of Egypt, Khedive Abbas Hilmi.

Now she is widowed and broke, living in a dollar-a-day Paris hotel room. She spends her time reading the "help wanted" ads, and waiting for answers to her pleas for a job as cook, housekeeper or maid.

She is a second cousin, by marriage, to Egypt's present King Farouk, but has nothing to do with Egypt.

"I would like to go back there, but only under quite other circumstances," she told a reporter.

Cooking, a Hobby

The ex-queen dresses simply, but in good taste. She looks about 50 years old, despite her 74 years. She says she learned to cook as a hobby, specializing in the Turkish specialties her Turkish-born husband loved.

As a result of her hobby, she now lists United States assistant defense secretary Robert A. Lovett as one of her references on applications for a job.

"I was visiting a friend in Zurich, in 1938 or 1939," she recalls. "Mr. Lovett was to be a luncheon guest, and there were lots of others coming. Just at the last moment, the cook became desperately ill. I went into the kitchen to cook the lunch to save my host and hostess the embarrassment of having to cancel the luncheon."

When the lunch was over, she said, Lovett complimented the food and asked if he might give the cook a gift.

Husband Abducted
"When I told him I was the cook, he asked me to give him my own cook recipes. Then he came back for lunch every day for five days, on condition that I cook it."

Princess Dayan's husband, whom she married in Cairo in 1900, ruled Egypt as Khedive under the Ottoman empire until 1917. In that year he flatly refused to enter the war on the side of the Allies since it would have meant fighting Turkey, his native country. He abdicated under pressure and was succeeded by Sultan Ahmed Fuad, father of the present King Farouk.

Escanaba Nurses
Attend Convention

Mrs. Mildred Bartol and Miss Dorothy Murphy of the Delta County District Nurses association left Tuesday to attend the annual state nursing convention in Detroit, April 25-28.

Mrs. Bartol presented a report at the meeting of the advisory council of the Michigan State Nurses association on Wednesday.

The role of nurses in national and state security will be outlined at one of the open meetings. Guest speakers will be Miss Lucile Petry, chief nurse officer of the U. S. Public Health Service, Washington, D. C., and Brig. Gen. Lester J. Maitland, director of the Michigan Office of Civilian Defense.

More than 11,000 members will be represented at the annual meeting of the Michigan State Nurses association, Michigan League of Nursing Education, Michigan State Organization for Public Health Nursing, Michigan Practical Nursing association and Michigan Nursing Center association.

Pollock Will Address Public
Meeting Monday

James K. Pollock, chairman of the political science department, will address a public meeting at the Escanaba junior high school library at 8 Monday evening.

The meeting is being sponsored by the University of Michigan extension department and the recently organized League of Women Voters. All interested men and women are invited to attend.

Professor Pollock will speak on "Reorganization of Foreign Policy."

Golden Wedding
Is Observed By Henry Roemers

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Roemer, 1704 First avenue south, residents of Escanaba for over 60 years, observed their golden wedding anniversary Tuesday, April 24.

A dinner for immediate family relatives was served at the Delta Hotel and open house was held at their home during the afternoon. A tiered wedding cake with an effective arrangement of tapers and spring flowers formed the decorative theme.

The couple was presented with many beautiful anniversary gifts.

Among the guests were Mr. and Mrs. Gene Roemer of Milwaukee and Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Hirm of Chicago. Mr. Roemer and Mr. Hirm are nephews of Mr. and Mrs. Roemer.

Mrs. Roemer, who was Elizabeth Kraus, was born in Watertown, Wis., and Mr. Roemer's birthplace was L'Anse. Their marriage took place in St. Joseph's church in Escanaba April 24, 1901, with the late Father Bede solemnizing the service.

Large Family Gathering Held

A large family gathering was held Sunday afternoon honoring the Gilbert Olsons, the Lloyd Nybergs and the Clarence Goodmans.

Early in the afternoon the group called at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Nyberg, 1123 Michigan avenue where coffee was served at a beautifully appointed table centered with spring flowers. Mrs. Gilbert Larson and Mrs. Inez Nyberg poured.

From there the guests went to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Goodman where an informal program of appropriate readings and music was given. A buffet supper was served at the conclusion of the festivities. The table was decorated with lighted tapers while greens and bouquets of daffodils and snapdragons formed living room decorations.

Gifts were given to the Olsons, who were recently married; the Goodmans, who lately moved into their newly constructed home; and the Nybergs, who purchased their home recently.

Over fifty persons attended the festivities.

Out of town persons attending were, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Danielson of Norway, Mich., parents of Mrs. Clarence Goodman, Mr. and Mrs. Jas. Knox, Wetmore, Mich., Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Nyberg and

To Discuss Roleo At Meeting On Friday

A proposal to hold a "low cost" roleo that will still bring top birlers of the nation to Gladstone is to be presented to citizens of Gladstone at a special meeting Friday evening at 8:30 in the city hall.

The late hour was selected in order that business men of the city may attend. All other interested citizens are being urged to attend in order that a frank discussion on the possibilities of a roleo this year may be held.

It is pointed out by interested parties that the National Outdoor Writers association is meeting in Delta county June 30-July 7 and upwards from 400 writers will come here for the convention and that the roleo can be made a program feature of the gathering, with the likelihood of excellent publicity for the area resulting.

'Work Bee' For Weekend Slated

Golfers Asked To Finish Project

In an effort to complete work at the new club house at the Indian Lake Golf and Country Club, a "work bee" has been scheduled for Saturday afternoon and Sunday, it is announced.

Members of the club are asked to report at 1:30 p. m. Saturday and also on Sunday morning and afternoon. Committee chairman also have been instructed to see that enough manpower is available both days to complete the scheduled tasks.

Projects slated for attention are inside painting, cabinet work in the kitchen, and outside clean-up work.

It is hoped to have all inside work finished in 30 days in preparation for a formal opening in late May, it is announced.

Plan Formation Of VFW Auxiliary Unit At Engadine

Plans for the organization of a VFW auxiliary in Engadine are being made, it is announced by Mrs. John Vaughan, of Manistique, district auxiliary president.

Approval for the unit was voted last week by the Engadine VFW post.

Mrs. Vaughan will visit Engadine Friday at which time charter members of the new organization will be enrolled. As soon as the charter had been approved the unit will be installed and members initiated.

Rita Fandrick, of Engadine, is chairman in charge of organization.

Open House To Be Held At Remodeled Church On Tuesday

An "open house" program to enable the public to inspect improvements at the Bethel Baptist church will be held next Tuesday afternoon and evening, it is announced by Rev. Harold Martinson, pastor.

The church building will be open for inspection in the afternoon from 2 to 5 o'clock and in the evening from 7 to 10. During the evening session a musical program will be presented and two or more motion pictures will be shown. Included in the musical program will be selections by an accordion band, numbers by the Bethel Baptist girls' ensemble, and several instrumental solos. Redecoration work is still underway at the church but it is expected to be finished before Tuesday afternoon.

Forty Logged

The program to enlarge and redecorate the church building was started six years ago with the creation of a building fund. Later the church acquired a forty of timber in Manistique township and supervised its logging, taking from the land much of the timber needed for the construction of an addition to the church and also raising cash by the sale of other timber products.

In spite of these efforts the church still found it necessary to incur a substantial debt in order to finance the remodeling program, Rev. Martinson said. With the help of various church organizations, however, it is expected that the indebtedness can be liquidated in about 10 years.

New Class Rooms

In addition to the redecoration of the church auditorium and entrance, the entire Sunday school department was remodeled and a substantial three-story addition built onto it. The floor of the Sunday school section was dropped several feet, to permit utilization of the third floor for class rooms. Construction work was started in July, 1950.

The new Sunday school structure provides space for a sizeable auditorium and a modern kitchen on the first floor, Sunday school class and meeting rooms on the second floor, and class rooms on the third floor.

The first floor auditorium also will be used for church suppers and various dinner meetings. Formal dedication of the remodeled church has been set for Sunday afternoon, May 13.

Sgt. Mulhaupt Back In Action After Six Years

It's a long way, even as the crow flies, from the Huertgen Forest of Germany to the 38th parallel in Korea, but M/Sgt. Leonard Mulhaupt, former Manistique hardware merchant, was back near the battlefield again recently, according to a letter received from him yesterday by L. E. Wilson.

Since the letter was written the enemy has smashed south toward Seoul again, and Sgt. Mulhaupt is probably in action once more, Wilson said.

Mulhaupt went through a lot of action in World War II during the invasion of Germany and also took part in the bloody Huertgen Forest campaign. After his discharge he entered the hardware business in partnership with his brother, Ben, and also joined the army reserves.

He was recalled to military service as a reservist last fall.

In his letter Sgt. Mulhaupt complimented Wilson on the success of the old timers' basketball game for the benefit of the local polio fund, and said that he expected to be back in action again in a few days after a lapse of six years. He had just received the local newspaper announcing the success of the old timers' game.

National Forest Timber For Sale

Sealed bids will be received by the Forest Supervisor, Escanaba, Michigan up to 2:00 p. m., E. S. T., May 28, 1951, and will be opened immediately thereafter, for all the live timber marked or designated for cutting, and all merchantable dead timber located on an area embracing about 870 acres in Sections 4, 9 and 10, T. 43 N., R. 18 W., Michigan Meridian, Hiawatha National Forest, estimated to be 300 cords of jack pine pulpwood, more or less, together with small unestimated amounts of other species and products. No bid of less than $2.00 per cord for jack pine pulpwood will be considered.

In addition to the price bid for jack pine pulpwood a cooperative deposit of $0.50 per cord for jack pine pulpwood will be required for stand regeneration. A deposit of $200.00 must accompany each bid to be applied on the purchase price, refunded or retained in part as liquidated damages according to the conditions of the sale. The right to reject any and all bids is reserved. Before bids are submitted the marked and designated timber should be examined and full information concerning the timber, conditions of sale and submission of bids should be obtained from the Forest Ranger, Manistique, Michigan, or from the Forest Supervisor, Escanaba, Michigan.

Alma Choir Is Talented Group

To Give Concert Here On May 2

The Alma College choir, which will present a concert at the Presbyterian church here next Wednesday evening, May 2, is now recognized as one of the leading choirs of the midwest, although it has been organized only since 1930.

Professor John A. Merrill, head of the music department, is the director of the choir. He came to Alma College in September, 1949, from Owosso high school where he was director of vocal music. Merrill attended the University of Toledo and graduated from Ohio State university. He carried on his graduate study at the University of Michigan and Michigan State College, receiving his master of music education from Michigan State in 1948.

While in Toledo, Merrill was active in musical activities, serving as guest artist with the Toledo Friends of Music series in 1944-45. He was associated with the Toledo Light Opera association, and also was chorus master of the Manhattan Productions, Inc. He also has been active in civic musical work. He has organized a choral union at Alma which present the "Messiah" during the Christmas season. Also he is musical director of the First Presbyterian church of Alma.

Since its organization in 1930 the Alma College A Capella Choir has provided a superior type of music enjoyment for thousands of people. The development of the choir from 30 students has been an interesting and inspirational process of growth, both in numbers and in purely artistic achievements. The present organization includes 49 students who are carefully selected for membership. In building its concert program, the choir presents well chosen groups representing several important periods in musical literature.

Today the Alma College Choir is recognized as one of the leading choirs in the midwest.

Confidence All Ginsberg Needs

DETROIT—(P)—Confidence—that's what rookie Joe Ginsberg needs.

Manager Red Rolfe of the Detroit Tigers and observers share this view.

They feel that Joe needs to come through with some more top-notch performances in order to get the spark.

Joe, 24-year-old product of the Toledo farm club, already has taken one good step. He smashed a home run, his first in the major leagues and two singles in three trips in the Tigers last game.

The Tigers, who have won only two of their first six games, resume action Saturday against the Chicago White Sox at Briggs stadium.

Question About Arm
Ginsberg had trouble with his legs to second and third in this season's early games. Five bases were stolen on him.

But last Monday he cut down the only St. Louis runner (Johnny Berardino) who tried to steal on him.

Rolfe indicated he wasn't as badly worried about Ginsberg's throwing arm as some reports have said.

"I feel much better about Ginsberg's arm now that the season is underway than I did during exhibitions. He needs to throw out a few runners and get a little more confidence," said Rolfe.

Ginsberg, a native New Yorker who stands 5-10½ and weighs 170 served with Jamestown, Williamsport, and Toledo in his five minor league years.

Don't Need Klutz
He played with Toledo most of last year, batting .336 in 63 games. In 36 games with the Tigers last year he hit .232.

His outburst Monday gave him a .263 average for this season's six games. No other regular is doing better.

When Rolfe heard a report that St. Louis was trying to trade veteran catcher Clyde Klutz to the Tigers he said: "We'll go along with Ginsy."

Should Ginsberg fail, Rolfe can fall back on two veterans of his own—Aaron Robinson and Bob Swift, although Swift is recovering from an appendectomy and may be sidelined for several more weeks.

The Tigers were scheduled to practice today and tomorrow.

Dick Lough Plays Ball In Virginia

Dick Lough, Escanaba baseball player signed by the New York Giants last summer, has been assigned to the Big Stone Gap, Va., team in the class D Mountain State league.

Lough's mother, Mrs. Ray Heminger, 506 First Avenue south, said he had practiced with the Sanford, Florida club before being assigned to the Virginia team. Lough reported that Big Stone Gap is a community of 5,000 persons and that "everyone treats us like kings."

Lough finished his second semester at Michigan State college before leaving for the Giants training camp.

WEBSTER WINS
The Webster school softball team defeated the Franklin school 6-3, with Cecil Redstrom allowing only two hits and striking out 12 batters.

World Upside Down For Padgens

ANN ARBOR — (P)—The Padgen boys are in a rut—all five of 'em.

John, Nick, Frank, Oscar and Bill, all graduated into athletics. All got into college football. All became centers.

John, who centered Michigan's 1950 team, has just accepted a job as coach of football, basketball and track and the athletic directorship of Saline high school.

From Lansing, Ill.
Before that, just like his brothers, he spent most of his grid days looking out at the world from between his own legs.

Nick lettered at Creighton and Frank at St. Louis university.

Flint Arrows Lose In League Opener

(By The Associated Press)
The Dayton Indians and Charleston Senators opened their central baseball league schedules last night with barages of 11 base hits each and one-sided victories.

The Indians walloped the Flint Arrows 10-2 behind the three-hit pitching of southpaw Ruben Stohs at Dayton while in the West Virginia city Charleston made it 7-3 over the Muskegon Clippers.

At Grand Rapids the Jets' opener with the Saginaw Jackrabbits had to be postponed because of rain.

Betsy Rawls Beats Babe Zaharias

SACRAMENTO, Calif. — (P)—Betsy Rawls, in only her third tourney as a pro, smashed Babe Didrikson Zaharias' virtual monopoly of the women's golf tour.

Miss Rawls, 22 year old San Antonio, Tex., ex-amateur star, came home in 72 strokes yesterday to take top money of $225 in the Sacramento women's invitational tourney.

The great Babe, who had won five of seven women's tourneys this year, shared second place with 17 year old Marlene Bauer of Midland, Tex., at 74 for a $137.50 pickup.

FIGHTS LAST NIGHT

New York—Chico Vejar, 142½, Stamford, Conn., outpointed Billy Murphy, 138½, Brooklyn, 8.

Elizabeth, N. J.—Joey Cardillo, 148, Youngstown, outpointed Norman Thompson, 147, Paterson, N. J., 8.

Tacoma—Jess Hall, 168, Tacoma, knocked out Bill Carter, 178, Toronto, 2.

The first American allmanac was published by William Pierce, of Cambridge, Mass., in 1630.

Boudreau Ails As Yanks Arrive

BOSTON — (P)—When owner Tom Yawkey and Joe Cronin bid high to obtain Lou Boudreau as their Boston Red Sox' much-needed "take charge" guy, they realized that 33-year-old veteran of 13 previous American league campaigns would be forced to miss many a game.

But they did have high hopes frequent rests would keep him physically fit for crucial series, especially those with the championship New York Yankees.

But here, for the first time this season, come the Yanks into Fenway park today and the chronic spavined Boudreau will be ailing on the sidelines.

Suffers Bruised Thigh
Lou suffered a bruised thigh during some aggressive action in the first game of Sunday's doubleheader with the Philadelphia Athletics. Now that ailment has been aggravated by a heavy cold.

Until Boudreau, who has been pacing the slow-starting Soxers with a .333 batting average, can resume play, Manager Steve O'Neill must continue with little Johnny Pesky as his shortstop. That aggressive infielder has not played that position since 1947 and, naturally, he appeared a bit rusty afield both during the nightcap with the Athletics and Tuesday's loss to the Washington Senators.

Even with Boudreau available, the Soxers were able to manufacture but one lone run last week while bowing twice to the Yanks in New York.

And even with Lou in action many keen baseball students branded O'Neill's infield as "sieve-like." They reported that grounders that agile youngsters could change into double plays kept going for hits, well beyond the finger tips of slowed-down Boudreau, Bobby Doerr, also 33, and Vern Stephens.

Drop Is Dropped
Most of O'Neill's critics agree he did tighten his infield defenses a few threads by returning Billy Goodman, the American league batting titlist, to first base.

While Big Walt Dropo was on that bag, the other infielders seemed to take careful aim for bullseye throws, much to the delight of opposing speedsters.

Assuming that Dropo, whose hitting has fallen off from a freshman .322 to an early sophomore—jinxed .083, now is on the trading block, some of O'Neill's second-guessers are showering him with long-range advice.

"Put Pesky back on third base and move Stephens out to right field," they urge. That shift might work if Boudreau could be depended upon to play every day. But that appears to come under the heading of wishful thinking.

Test Track Meet Here Tomorrow

With a weatherman's promise of "about 50 degree weather tomorrow," it appears that the informal track meet between Escanaba and Stephenson high schools may go on as scheduled at the local athletic field at 3 o'clock Friday.

The meet will be a test for both schools and coaches of the two teams will do plenty of experimenting. The rule book goes "out the window" more or less by mutual agreement as the coaches seek to find their best combinations.

Coaches Steve Baltic and Henry Wylie of Escanaba are non-committal but there are indications that some of the Eskymos may do creditable jobs.

The meet is open to the public.

Albion Trackmen Win Triangular

ALBION — (P)—Albion's track team boasted three straight outdoor victories today after dominating a triangular meet with Hope and Jackson junior college yesterday.

The Britons either won or shared first place in every event except the broad jump and scored 104½ points to 48½ for Hope and 8½ for the Jaycees. There were three double winners on the Albion squad.

GULLIVER AT BLANEY

GULLIVER — The Gulliver baseball team will open its season Sunday, May 13, playing Blaney Park.

Hey! Cards Lead Loop; Giants Near Bottom

(By The Associated Press)

What's wrong with this picture?

Tom Poholsky pitches St. Louis Cards into first place—New York Giants sink into cellar with seventh straight loss.

This is the year the weary old Cards were supposed to fade away. Wasn't their fifth place finish of last year the tipoff? With Manager Marty Marion on the inactive list, they were sure to be left in the starting gate.

Pennant talk flooded the Giants training camp at St. Petersburg. Leo Durocher had each of his pitchers go the route in two practice games to get ready for a fast start.

But nothing is sure in baseball as giant fans sadly are discovering. Nothing Durocher does works. The hitters don't hit, the fielders don't field. Even his ace, Larry Jansen, has lost his last two starts.

Giants Near Panic

There is near panic in the Polo grounds as the Giants stumble home for a series with Boston and a trip to Brooklyn before the western teams move in.

And St. Louis reflects enthusiasm for the stout pitching of Poholsky, Max Lanier and Harry Brecheen who have allowed the enemy only two runs in the last 27 innings.

Marion was sure about Poholsky in Florida. As sure as a freshman manager can be about a rookie. He pitched him opening day, passing over the big names on his staff. Poholsky lost the opener but vindicated Marion's judgement last night with his two-hit 4-0 shutout of Pittsburgh.

Solly Hemus, Marion's shortstop replacement, drove home the first run and scored the second. Enos Slaughter nicked Cliff Chambers for his first homer in the sixth.

Ken Heintzelman snuffed out Giants in the pinches to pitch Philadelphia past New York, 2-1. He gave eight hits and walked six but left 12 stranded. Twice the Giants loaded the bases with only one out.

Jethroe Homers

Although Larry Jansen gave up only five hits, the Phils took full advantage of them. Richie Ashburn's single following Eddie Waitkus' leadoff double in the first brought a run. Hamner's double drove in Del Ennis who singled in the fourth.

The old home run ball, a Brooklyn Dodger hoodoo for years, rose up again to cost them a ball game. Boston's Sam Jethroe hit one into the seats with one on and two out in the ninth for a 6-5 edge over reliever Clyde King. Just like Sid Gordon old the day before in an earlier inning off reliever Carl Erskine. Vern Bickford was the winner.

Ted Kluszewski, deep in an early spring slump, snapped out of it with a two-run homer in the eighth for Cincinnati's 4-3 edge over the Chicago Cubs.

Blackwell Wins

Ewell Blackwell, working on relief, picked up win No. 1 at Paul Minner's expense.

Spec Shea, New York Yankee star of 1947, was the big news in the American league with a four-hit, 4-0 shutout of Philadelphia. The big right-hander walked five but left 10 A's stranded.

Billy Johnson had a hand in all four Yank runs with a double, single and walk. Three times the A's loaded the bases as they ran their scoreless inning string to 18.

The Chicago White Sox split two with St. Louis, winning 8-6 but losing 7-4 in the second game. The Browns had lost 13 straight, including nine spring exhibitions, to the Sox before they won the second for reliever Ned Garver.

Al Zarilla and Eddie Robinson of the Sox and Ken Wood and

'Old Dad' Hustles For Spartans

EAST LANSING — (P)—"Old Dad" is one of the hustling fellows on the Michigan State baseball team.

Outfielder Herb Schroeter of Detroit is 31 years old. And to most of his teen-age teammates that age seems almost ancient.

So Herb is "old dad" or "pop" to the rest of the boys.

Despite his years, Schroeter is as eager as any rookie. Last season, as a pitcher, he won two and lost one. He realized that he'd have to make a switch to stay on as a first stringer and this year

Toledo Toasts Billy Hoeft

Tiger Hand Defeats Brewers, 3-2

(By The Associated Press)
The toast of Toledo Thursday was Billy Hoeft, an 18-year-old lad from Wisconsin.

Young Bill southpawed a seven-hit job last night before 1,607 Toledo fans to give the Mudhens a 3-2 verdict over Milwaukee. The victory, Toledo's sixth in eight starts, shoved the club back atop the American association standings by a ½ game margin over the Brewers.

Hoeft, beaten 2-1 by Minneapolis in a 10-inning marathon was given a first time out this season, was his 2-0 lead in the first inning and protected it all the way. He walked only two and struck out nine.

One of the hits he yielded was a homer in the ninth by Howie Moss. The Hens blasted 10 blows off three Milwaukee hurlers in squaring the series.

At Columbus, Kansas City took a 5-4 win over the Red Birds in a 17-inning game that lasted three hours and 59 minutes. Bob Marquis homered in the 17th for the clincher off 23-year-old Herb Moford.

Lefty Bob Wesler, 21-year-old rookie up from Joplin, went the distance for the Blues for a masterful six hit chore. He whiffed 12 and also walked 12.

Vern Benson of the Redbirds twice tied the score with homers, one in the eighth and another in the 13th.

In the only other game Louisville copped its second decision in eight starts with a 10-7 victory over Minneapolis. St. Paul's game at Indianapolis was rained out.

Jim Delsing of the Browns homered in the opener won by Dick Littlefield over Duane Pilette.

Spilling The Dope

By Charlie Larson

For a smooth-running organization, you ought to watch the Escanaba softball association in operation.

Their meeting Tuesday night at Club 314 was a fine example of how a sports affair ought to be run. Rev. (The Rev.) A. A. Schabow, league president, handles things in a sharp manner.

There is no fool in the room. The agenda is set. The question is put and explained, discussion is asked, there's a vote. And that's it.

This may be a critical year for softball. A lot of the players have gone into service. There seems to be less team interest than last year, especially in the National league.

And there are indications that Escanabans are running close to the board on the amount of spending money they have for recreation and amusement.

Last year, the softball association ran into some difficulty but most of it was inclement weather. If the weather is as miserable this summer, storm signals may appear, literally as well as figuratively.

But the association is strong and active and not afraid to work out its own problems, knotty as they may be.

.....
In every serious meeting, there is bound to be some humor. This meeting was no exception.

Someone laughingly wondered if the association is going to furnish its umpires with white canes and dark glasses this year.

When someone else inquired whether managers could make a list of umpires they didn't want to work their games, Warren Johnston, an umpire, piped up:

"That's fine. But if they do that, we umpires ought to have a right to blacklist some of the players we'd rather not have playing."

IN MEMO RIAM
In loving memory of our dear husband and father, Arthur DeRoun, who passed away five years ago today, April 26, 1946.

We cherish the love you so willingly gave. Today we bow silently over your grave. We whisper a prayer and leave a bouquet—We haven't forgotten today is the day. We miss you, husband and father dear—Life is so lonely since you're not here. How we loved you, bless your heart—Sad was the day you had to depart.

Sadly missed by wife and family, Mrs. Alice DeRoun, Mrs. Charles Johnston, Mrs. George Choler, Marilyn, Arthur and Johnny. 10533-116-1f

Legislators Are Trading Fists Again In Capital

By ROBERT C. RUARK
NEW YORK—We note that there is fistcuffing in the Senate Office building again, with the usual box score of unbloodied noses and unmoored eyes, which leads us to the suspicion that nothing is quite so pathetic as a grown man playing tiger. So few people know how to fight.

Next to legislators, baseball players are the worst freehand fist throwers in the world. I expect I have seen two-score fracas in or around baseball meadows, and the only really effective violence I can remember was the time Lippy Durocher beat up a heckler with a blackjack while somebody else held him. This, however, could scarcely be called a contest of skill.

The movies and the books are always full of outraged citizens who tell other citizens with one punch—generally a looping right to the whiskers—but actually shows that it is very difficult to chill an enemy with one or a dozen solid smacks, even if you know your business. If you get onto the chin it generally hurts the hands worse than it hurts the target.

Women Better Scrappers
Grown men who abandon the insult for the clenched fist generally seem to fall down after they miss with the first haymaker, and the contest resolves into a pushing match, where contestant A seems to get some odd satisfaction from shoving contestant B. Women usually battle more effectively than men.

I saw a duel to the death a few weeks ago, at a big charity do, in which considerable damage was inflicted on both gladiators. One man kicked the other in the shins, and the guy who got kicked in the shins scratched the other gladiator's face. This is strictly dame fighting, and hence is vastly more effective than the straight he-man slug from the shoulder. A barked shin hurts something awful, while a handful of hair and hooked fingernails to the epidermis take dreadful toll.

Moody Broke Up Fight
The recent senatorial brawl, instigated by a Truman-McArthur argument, was a three-way patty cake between Sens. Homer Capehart, Herbert Lehman and Hubert Humphrey. Mr. Capehart, a chubby 250-pounder, in his middle 50's, pushed Mr. Humphrey, who is younger and lighter. Mr. Lehman, in his 70's grabbed Mr. Capehart by the coat collar, Mr. Blair Moody, a newsman since appointed U. S. senator from Michigan, broke up the horrid carnage, before death—from hardened arteries—overtook the warriors. This nearly approximates the average battle on the baseball field.

I have never understood how trained athletes, with sharp spikes and bulging muscles, contrive to do so little damage to each other, but I have watched a five-minute brawl between two full teams in which no single scratch or bruise was administered by anyone to anyone. There were bats in it, too, but nobody got maimed by the brandished Louisville sluggers.

Jones-Meyer Fracas
Thinking hard, and going away back in the Washington battlefields, the closest thing to a stand-up scrap I can remember was a brief encounter between the venerable Jesse Jones and the equally venerable Eugene Meyer, owner of the Washington Post. They exchanged words in the Mayflower hotel, as I recall, and Meyer, a former amateur boxer, got in one punch before they smothered the blaze. I saw Mr. Jones the other day, and the damage does not appear to have lasted.

The middle-aged gentleman who decides to proclaim his manhood with his fists courts nothing much but embarrassment. He throws his blows after the fashion of a maiden decking the spring sward with dairies, and the arthritic uppercuts resemble a futile chase after butterflies. The best he can expect is to stumble, fall, and run out of breath and curs words.

I am in favor of the horsewhip as a vindicator of adult honor. You can generally get in at least one swishy cut with it before you throw a knee out of joint or wrench your back.

SUES FOR MILLIONS—Largest damage suit ever filed in U. S. courts is being pressed by Harry Ferguson, above, tractor and farm implement inventor. He is suing the Ford Motor Co. and associates for $341,000,000 in a Federal Court in New York, charging Ford with a conspiracy in violation of anti-trust laws and seeks treble damages. Ferguson and the late Henry Ford operated together for years under an oral agreement "sealed only by a handshake."
